PREAMBLE

The people of South Africa recognise—

That apartheid and discriminatory laws of the past have burdened the nation with unacceptably high levels of poverty, illiteracy and other forms of social and economic inequality;

That it is necessary to develop and employ innovative means to—

- (a) fulfil the rights of historically disadvantaged persons and to promote their full participation as consumers;
- (b) protect the interests of all consumers, ensure accessible, transparent and efficient redress for consumers who are subjected to abuse or exploitation in the marketplace; and
- (c) to give effect to internationally recognised customer rights;

That recent and emerging technological changes, trading methods, patterns and agreements have brought, and will continue to bring, new benefits, opportunities and challenges to the market for consumer goods and services within South Africa; and

That it is desirable to promote an economic environment that supports and strengthens a culture of consumer rights and responsibilities, business innovation and enhanced performance.

For the reasons set out above, and to give effect to the international law obligations of the Republic, a law is to be enacted in order to—

- promote and protect the economic interests of consumers;
- improve access to, and the quality of, information that is necessary so that consumers are able to make informed choices according to their individual wishes and needs;
- protect consumers from hazards to their well-being and safety;
- develop effective means of redress for consumers;
- promote and provide for consumer education, including education concerning the social and economic effects of consumer choices;
- facilitate the freedom of consumers to associate and form groups to advocate and promote their common interests; and “unit price” means a price for any goods or services expressed in relation to a well-known measure such as quantity, weight, volume, duration or other measurable unit by which the goods or services are allocated;

“used goods”, when used in respect of any goods being marketed, means goods that have been previously supplied to a consumer, but does not include goods that have been returned to the supplier in terms of any right of return contemplated in this Act; and “visual representation” means any representation or illustration capable of being reproduced upon a surface, whether by printing or otherwise, but does not include a trade mark.

(Date of commencement of s. 1: 24 April, 2010.)

2. Interpretation.—(1) This Act must be interpreted in a manner that gives effect to the purposes set out in section 3.

(2) When interpreting or applying this Act, a person, court or Tribunal or the Commission may consider—

- (a) appropriate foreign and international law;
- (b) appropriate international conventions, declarations or protocols relating to consumer protection; and
- (c) any decision of a consumer court, ombud or arbitrator in terms of this Act, to the extent that such a decision has not been set aside, reversed or overruled by the High Court, the Supreme Court of Appeal or the Constitutional Court.

(3) If a provision of this Act requires a document to be signed or initialled by a party to a transaction, that signing or initialling may be effected in any manner recognised by law, including by use of—

- (a) an advanced electronic signature, as defined in the Electronic Communications and Transactions Act; or
- (b) an electronic signature, as defined in the Electronic Communications and Transactions Act.

(4) The supplier must take reasonable measures to prevent the use of a consumer’s electronic signature for any purpose other than the signing or initialling of the particular document that the consumer intended to sign or initial.

(5) Despite the periods of time set out in section 6, each successive threshold determined by the Minister in terms of that section continues in effect until a subsequent threshold in terms of that section takes effect.

(6) When a particular number of business days is provided for between the happening of one event and another, the number of days must be calculated by—

- (a) excluding the day on which the first such event occurs;
- (b) including the day on or by which the second event is to occur; and
- (c) excluding any public holiday, Saturday or Sunday that falls on or between the days contemplated in paragraphs (a) and (b), respectively.

(7) Unless the context indicates otherwise, any use of the word “includes” or “including” in relation to a defined or generic word or expression, on the one hand, and one or more enumerated examples or specific items, on the other, is not to be construed as limiting the defined or generic expression to the examples or items so enumerated.

(8) If there is an inconsistency between any provision of Chapter 5 of this Act and a provision of the Public Finance Management Act, 1999 (Act No. 1 of 1999), or the Public Service Act, 1994 (Proclamation No. 103 of 1994), the provisions of the Public Finance Management Act, 1999, or of the Public Service Act, 1994, as the case may be, prevail.

(9) If there is an inconsistency between any provision of this Act and a provision of any Act not contemplated in subsection (8)—

- (a) the provisions of both Acts apply concurrently, to the extent that it is possible to apply and comply with one of the inconsistent provisions without contravening the second; and
- (b) to the extent that paragraph (a) cannot apply, the provision that extends the greater protection to a consumer prevails over the alternative provision, provided that in the case of hazardous chemical products only the provisions of this Act relating to consumer redress will apply.

(10) No provision of this Act must be interpreted so as to preclude a consumer from exercising any rights afforded in terms of the common law.

(Date of commencement of s. 2: 24 April, 2010.)

Part B

Purpose, policy and application of Act

3. Purpose and policy of Act.—(1) The purposes of this Act are to promote and advance the social and economic welfare of consumers in South Africa by—

- (a) establishing a legal framework for the achievement and maintenance of a consumer market that is fair, accessible, efficient, sustainable and responsible for the benefit of consumers generally;
- (b) reducing and ameliorating any disadvantages experienced in accessing any supply of goods or services by consumers—
 - (i) who are low-income persons or persons comprising low-income communities;
 - (ii) who live in remote, isolated or low-density population areas or communities;
 - (iii) who are minors, seniors or other similarly vulnerable consumers; or
 - (iv) whose ability to read and comprehend any advertisement, agreement, mark, instruction, label, warning, notice or other visual representation is limited by reason of low literacy, vision impairment or limited fluency in the language in which the representation is produced, published or presented;
- (c) promoting fair business practices;
- (d) protecting consumers from—
 - (i) unconscionable, unfair, unreasonable, unjust or otherwise improper trade practices; and
 - (ii) deceptive, misleading, unfair or fraudulent conduct;
- (e) improving consumer awareness and information and encouraging responsible and informed consumer choice and behaviour;
- (f) promoting consumer confidence, empowerment, and the development of a culture of consumer responsibility, through individual and group education, vigilance, advocacy and activism;
- (g) providing for a consistent, accessible and efficient system of consensual resolution of disputes arising from consumer transactions; and
- (h) providing for an accessible, consistent, harmonised, effective and efficient system of redress for consumers.

(2) To better ensure the realisation of the purposes of this Act, and the enjoyment of the consumer rights recognised or conferred by this Act, the Commission, in addition to its responsibilities set out elsewhere in this Act, is responsible to—

- (a) take reasonable and practical measures to promote the purposes of this Act and to protect and advance the interests of all consumers, and in particular those consumers contemplated in subsection (1) (b);
- (b) monitor and report each year to the Minister on the following matters:
 - (i) The availability of goods and services to persons contemplated in subsection (1) (b), including price and market conditions, conduct and trends affecting their consumer rights;
 - (ii) access to the supply of goods and services by small businesses and persons contemplated in subsection (1) (b); and
 - (iii) any other matter relating to the supply of goods and services; and
- (c) conduct research and propose policies to the Minister in relation to any matter affecting the supply of goods and services, including proposals for legislative, regulatory or policy initiatives that would improve the realisation and full enjoyment of their consumer rights by persons contemplated in subsection (1) (b).

(Date of commencement of s. 3: 24 April, 2010.)

4. Realisation of consumer rights.—(1) Any of the following persons may, in the manner provided for in this Act, approach a court, the Tribunal or the Commission alleging that a consumer's rights in terms of this Act have been infringed, impaired or threatened, or that prohibited conduct has occurred or is occurring:

- (a) A person acting on his or her own behalf;
- (b) an authorised person acting on behalf of another person who cannot act in his or her own name;
- (c) a person acting as a member of, or in the interest of, a group or class of affected persons;
- (d) a person acting in the public interest, with leave of the Tribunal or court, as the case may be; and
- (e) an association acting in the interest of its members.

(2) In any matter brought before the Tribunal or a court in terms of this Act—

- (a) the court must develop the common law as necessary to improve the realisation and enjoyment of consumer rights generally, and in particular by persons contemplated in section 3 (1) (b); and
- (b) the Tribunal or court, as the case may be, must—
 - (i) promote the spirit and purposes of this Act; and
 - (ii) make appropriate orders to give practical effect to the consumer's right of access to redress, including, but not limited to—
 - (aa) any order provided for in this Act; and
 - (bb) any innovative order that better advances, protects, promotes and assures the realisation by consumers of their rights in terms of this Act.

(3) If any provision of this Act, read in its context, can reasonably be construed to have more than one meaning, the Tribunal or court must prefer the meaning that best promotes the spirit and purposes of this Act, and will best improve the realisation and enjoyment of consumer rights generally, and in particular by persons contemplated in section 3 (1) (b).

(4) To the extent consistent with advancing the purposes and policies of this Act, the Tribunal or court must interpret any standard form, contract or other document prepared or published by or on behalf of a supplier, or required by this Act to be produced by a supplier, to the benefit of the consumer—

- (a) so that any ambiguity that allows for more than one reasonable interpretation of a part of such a document is resolved to the benefit of the consumer; and
- (b) so that any restriction, limitation, exclusion or deprivation of a consumer's legal rights set out in such a document or notice is limited to the extent that a reasonable person would ordinarily contemplate or expect, having regard to—
 - (i) the content of the document;
 - (ii) the manner and form in which the document was prepared and presented; and
 - (iii) the circumstances of the transaction or agreement.

(5) In any dealings with a consumer in the ordinary course of business, a person must not—

- (a) engage in any conduct contrary to, or calculated to frustrate or defeat the purposes and policy of, this Act;
- (b) engage in any conduct that is unconscionable, misleading or deceptive, or that is reasonably likely to mislead or deceive; or
- (c) make any representation about a supplier or any goods or services, or a related matter, unless the person has reasonable grounds for believing that the representation is true.

(Date of commencement of s. 4: 24 April, 2010.)

5. Application of Act.—(1) This Act applies to—

- (a) every transaction occurring within the Republic, unless it is exempted by subsection (2), or in terms of subsections (3) and (4);
- (b) the promotion of any goods or services, or of the supplier of any goods or services, within the Republic, unless—
 - (i) those goods or services could not reasonably be the subject of a transaction to which this Act applies in terms of paragraph (a); or

- (ii) the promotion of those goods or services has been exempted in terms of subsections (3) and (4);
- (c) goods or services that are supplied or performed in terms of a transaction to which this Act applies, irrespective of whether any of those goods or services are offered or supplied in conjunction with any other goods or services, or separate from any other goods or services; and
- (d) goods that are supplied in terms of a transaction that is exempt from the application of this Act, but only to the extent provided for in subsection (5).

(2) This Act does not apply to any transaction—

- (a) in terms of which goods or services are promoted or supplied to the State;
- (b) in terms of which the consumer is a juristic person whose asset value or annual turnover, at the time of the transaction, equals or exceeds the threshold value determined by the Minister in terms of section 6;
- (c) if the transaction falls within an exemption granted by the Minister in terms of subsections (3) and (4);
- (d) that constitutes a credit agreement under the National Credit Act, but the goods or services that are the subject of the credit agreement are not excluded from the ambit of this Act;
- (e) pertaining to services to be supplied under an employment contract;
- (f) giving effect to a collective bargaining agreement within the meaning of section 23 of the Constitution and the Labour Relations Act, 1995 (Act No. 66 of 1995); or
- (g) giving effect to a collective agreement as defined in section 213 of the Labour Relations Act, 1995 (Act No. 66 of 1995).

(3) A regulatory authority may apply to the Minister for an industry-wide exemption from one or more provisions of this Act on the grounds that those provisions overlap or duplicate a regulatory scheme administered by that regulatory authority in terms of—

- (a) any other national legislation; or
- (b) any treaty, international law, convention or protocol.

(4) The Minister, by notice in the Gazette after receiving the advice of the Commission, may grant an exemption contemplated in subsection (3)—

- (a) only to the extent that the relevant regulatory scheme ensures the achievement of the purposes of this Act at least as well as the provisions of this Act; and
- (b) subject to any limits or conditions necessary to ensure the achievement of the purposes of this Act.

(5) If any goods are supplied within the Republic to any person in terms of a transaction that is exempt from the application of this Act, those goods, and the importer or producer, distributor and retailer of those goods, respectively, are nevertheless subject to sections 60 and 61.

(6) For greater certainty, the following arrangements must be regarded as a transaction between a supplier and consumer, within the meaning of this Act:

- (a) The supply of any goods or services in the ordinary course of business to any of its members by a club, trade union, association, society or other collectivity, whether corporate or unincorporated, of persons voluntarily associated and organised for a common purpose or purposes, whether for fair value consideration or otherwise, irrespective of whether there is a charge or economic contribution demanded or expected in order to become or remain a member of that entity;
- (b) a solicitation of offers to enter into a franchise agreement;
- (c) an offer by a potential franchisor to enter into a franchise agreement with a potential franchisee;
- (d) a franchise agreement or an agreement supplementary to a franchise agreement; and
- (e) the supply of any goods or services to a franchisee in terms of a franchise agreement.

(7) Despite subsection (2) (b), this Act applies to a transaction contemplated in subsection (6) (b) to (e) irrespective of whether the size of the juristic person falls above or below the threshold determined in terms of section 6.

(8) The application of this Act in terms of subsections (1) to (7) extends to a matter irrespective of whether the supplier—

- (a) resides or has its principal office within or outside the Republic;
- (b) operates on a for-profit basis or otherwise; or
- (c) is an individual, juristic person, partnership, trust, organ of state, an entity owned or directed by an organ of state, a person contracted or licensed by an organ of state to offer or supply any goods or services, or is a public-private partnership; or
- (d) is required or licensed in terms of any public regulation to make the supply of the particular goods or services available to all or part of the public.

(Date of commencement of s. 5: 24 April, 2010.)

6. Threshold determination.—(1) On the early effective date as determined in accordance with item 2 of Schedule 2, and subsequently at intervals of not more than five years, the Minister, by notice in the Gazette, must determine a monetary threshold applicable to the size of the juristic person for the purposes of section 5 (2) (b).

(2) The initial threshold determined by the Minister in terms of this section takes effect on the general effective date as determined in accordance with item 2 of Schedule 2, and each subsequent threshold takes effect six months after the date on which it is published in the Gazette.

(Date of commencement of s. 6: 24 April, 2010.)

7. Requirements of franchise agreements.—(1) A franchise agreement must—

- (a) be in writing and signed by or on behalf of the franchisee;
- (b) include any prescribed information, or address any prescribed categories of information; and
- (c) comply with the requirements of section 22.

(2) A franchisee may cancel a franchise agreement without cost or penalty within 10 business days after signing such agreement, by giving written notice to the franchisor.

(3) The Minister may prescribe information to be set out in franchise agreements, generally, or within specific categories or industries.

(Date of commencement of s. 7: 24 April, 2010.)

CHAPTER 2
FUNDAMENTAL CONSUMER RIGHTS
Part A
Right of equality in consumer market

8. Protection against discriminatory marketing.—(1) Subject to section 9, a supplier of goods or services must not unfairly—

- (a) exclude any person or category of persons from accessing any goods or services offered by the supplier;
- (b) grant any person or category of persons exclusive access to any goods or services offered by the supplier;
- (c) assign priority of supply of any goods or services offered by the supplier to any person or category of persons;
- (d) supply a different quality of goods or services to any person or category of persons;
- (e) charge different prices for any goods or services to any persons or category of persons;
- (f) target particular communities, districts, populations or market segments for exclusive, priority or preferential supply of any goods or services; or
- (g) exclude a particular community, district, population or market segment from the supply of any goods or services offered by the supplier, on the basis of one or more grounds of unfair discrimination contemplated in section 9 of the Constitution or Chapter 2 of the Promotion of Equality and Prevention of Unfair Discrimination Act.

(2) Subject to section 9, a supplier must not directly or indirectly treat any person differently than any other, in a manner that constitutes unfair discrimination on one or more grounds set out in section 9 of the Constitution, or one or more grounds set out in Chapter 2 of the Promotion of Equality and Prevention of Unfair Discrimination Act, when—

- (a) assessing the ability of the person to pay the cost, or otherwise meet the obligations, of a proposed transaction or agreement;
- (b) deciding whether to enter into a transaction or agreement, or to offer to enter into a transaction or agreement;
- (c) determining any aspect of the cost of a transaction or agreement to the consumer;
- (d) interacting with the consumer—
 - (i) in the supplier's place of business, or
 - (ii) in the course of displaying or demonstrating any goods, testing or fitting any goods, or negotiating the terms of a transaction or agreement; or

- (e) selecting, preparing, packaging or delivering any goods for or to the consumer, or providing any services to the consumer;
- (f) proposing or agreeing the terms and conditions of a transaction or agreement;
- (g) assessing or requiring compliance by the person with the terms of a transaction or agreement;
- (h) exercising any right of the supplier under a transaction or agreement in terms of this Act or applicable provincial consumer legislation;
- (i) determining whether to continue, enforce, seek judgment in respect of, or terminate a transaction or agreement; or
- (j) determining whether to report, or reporting, any personal information of such person.

(3) Subsections (1) and (2) also apply in respect of a consumer that is an association or juristic person, to prohibit unfair discrimination against that association or juristic person based on the characteristics of any natural person who is a member, associate, owner, manager, employee, client or customer of that association or juristic person.

(4) Nothing in this section is intended to limit the authority of a court to—

- (a) consider any conduct between a supplier and a consumer that is not contemplated in this section; or
- (b) find that any such conduct constitutes unfair discrimination within the meaning of the Constitution or the Promotion of Equality and Prevention of Unfair Discrimination Act.

9. Reasonable grounds for differential treatment in specific circumstances.—(1) It is not a contravention of section 8 for a supplier to—

- (a) refuse to supply or provide access to any particular goods or services to a minor, or to require the consent of a parent, guardian or other responsible adult before supplying or providing access to any particular goods or services to an unemancipated minor—
 - (i) in accordance with any public regulation; or
 - (ii) as a reasonable precaution to protect the health, welfare or safety of a minor;
- (b) refuse on reasonable grounds to—
 - (i) enter into an agreement with a minor for the supply of any goods or services; or
 - (ii) continue, or renew, an agreement contemplated in subparagraph (i), unless the supplier has reason to believe that the minor is emancipated;
- (c) reasonably designate any facility or service, permanently, or from time to time, for the exclusive use of—
 - (i) minors generally;
 - (ii) minors who are above or below a specified age, or between specified ages; or
 - (iii) adults who have attained a specified age of at least 60 years; or
- (d) advertise, offer or agree to supply, or supply, any goods or services at a discounted price solely on the basis that the consumer—
 - (i) is a minor who has not yet attained a specified age; or
 - (ii) is an adult who has attained a specified age of at least 60 years.

(2) It is not a contravention of section 8 for a supplier to reasonably—

- (a) provide and designate separate but substantially equivalent facilities for the exclusive use of persons of each gender; or
- (b) offer to supply or provide access to a facility exclusively to persons of one gender.

(3) It is not a contravention of section 8 for a supplier to market any goods or services in a manner that implies or expresses a preference for a particular group of consumers who are distinguishable from the general population on the basis of a ground of discrimination set out in section 9 (3) of the Constitution, if the particular goods or services are reasonably intended or designed to satisfy any specific needs or interests that are common to, or uniquely characteristic of, that particular group of consumers.

(4) Nothing in this section is intended to limit the authority of a court to—

- (a) assess the reasonableness of any conduct, to the extent contemplated in subsections (1) (b) or (c), (2) or (3), and determine whether any conduct not reasonably justified, as contemplated in those subsections, constitutes unfair discrimination within the meaning of the Constitution or the Promotion of Equality and Prevention of Unfair Discrimination Act; or

- (b) determine whether any conduct contemplated in section 8 was fair in the circumstances of a particular transaction or the marketing of any particular goods or services, as the case may be.

10. Equality court jurisdiction over this Part.—(1) In respect of an alleged contravention of this Part, an accredited consumer protection group, or any person contemplated in section 20 (1) of the Promotion of Equality and Prevention of Unfair Discrimination Act, may either—

- (a) institute proceedings before an equality court in terms of Chapter 4 of that Act; or
 - (b) file a complaint with the Commission, which must refer the complaint to the equality court, if the complaint appears to be valid.
- (2) In any proceedings contemplated in this Part—
- (a) there is a presumption that any differential treatment contemplated in section 8 is unfair discrimination, unless it is established that the discrimination is fair; and
 - (b) a court may draw an inference that a supplier has discriminated unfairly if—
 - (i) the supplier has done anything contemplated in section 8 with respect to a consumer in a manner that constituted differential treatment compared to that accorded to another consumer;
 - (ii) in the circumstances, the differential treatment appears to be based on a prohibited ground of discrimination; and
 - (iii) the supplier, when called upon to do so, has refused or failed to offer an alternative reasonable and justifiable explanation for the difference in treatment.

Part B
Consumer's right to privacy

11. Right to restrict unwanted direct marketing.—(1) The right of every person to privacy includes the right to—

- (a) refuse to accept;
- (b) require another person to discontinue; or
- (c) in the case of an approach other than in person, to pre-emptively block, any approach or communication to that person, if the approach or communication is primarily for the purpose of direct marketing.

(2) To facilitate the realisation of each consumer's right to privacy, and to enable consumers to efficiently protect themselves against the activities contemplated in subsection (1), a person who has been approached for the purpose of direct marketing may demand during or within a reasonable time after that communication that the person responsible for initiating the communication desist from initiating any further communication.

(3) The Commission may establish, or recognise as authoritative, a registry in which any person may register a pre-emptive block, either generally or for specific purposes, against any communication that is primarily for the purpose of direct marketing.

(4) A person authorising, directing or conducting any direct marketing—

- (a) must implement appropriate procedures to facilitate the receipt of demands contemplated in subsection (2); and
- (b) must not direct or permit any person associated with that activity to direct or deliver any communication for the purpose of direct marketing to a person who has—
 - (i) made a demand contemplated in subsection (2); or
 - (ii) registered a relevant pre-emptive block as contemplated in subsection (3).

(Date of commencement of sub-para. (ii) to be proclaimed (refer to Item 4 in Schedule 2).)

(5) No person may charge a consumer a fee for making a demand in terms of subsection (2) or registering a pre-emptive block as contemplated in subsection (3).

(6) The Minister may prescribe regulations for the operation of a registry contemplated in subsection (3).

12. Regulation of time for contacting consumers.—(1) A supplier must not engage in any direct marketing directed to a consumer at home for any promotional purpose during a prohibited period prescribed in terms of this section, except to the extent that the consumer has expressly or implicitly requested or agreed otherwise.

(2) In order to protect the privacy of consumers, the Minister, by notice in the Gazette, may prescribe specific days, dates, public holidays or times of days for the purpose of subsection (1).

Part C
Consumer's right to choose

13. Consumer's right to select suppliers.—(1) A supplier must not require, as a condition of offering to supply or supplying any goods or services, or as a condition of entering into an agreement or transaction, that the consumer must—

- (a) purchase any other particular goods or services from that supplier;
- (b) enter into an additional agreement or transaction with the same supplier or a designated third party; or
- (c) agree to purchase any particular goods or services from a designated third party, unless the supplier—

- (i) can show that the convenience to the consumer in having those goods or services bundled outweighs the limitation of the consumer's right to choice;
- (ii) can show that the bundling of those goods or services results in economic benefit for consumers; or
- (iii) offers bundled goods or services separately and at individual prices.

(2) Except to the extent that any other law provides otherwise, in any transaction between a franchisee and franchisor in terms of their franchise agreement, it is a defence to an allegation that the franchisor, as supplier to the franchisee, has contravened this section if any goods or services that the franchisee was required to purchase from or at the direction of the franchisor are reasonably related to the branded products or services that are the subject of the franchise agreement.

14. Expiry and renewal of fixed-term agreements.—(1) This section does not apply to transactions between juristic persons regardless of their annual turnover or asset value.

(2) If a consumer agreement is for a fixed term—

- (a) that term must not exceed the maximum period, if any, prescribed in terms of subsection (4) with respect to that category of consumer agreement;
- (b) despite any provision of the consumer agreement to the contrary—
 - (i) the consumer may cancel that agreement—
 - (aa) upon the expiry of its fixed term, without penalty or charge, but subject to subsection (3) (a); or
 - (bb) at any other time, by giving the supplier 20 business days' notice in writing or other recorded manner and form, subject to subsection (3) (a) and (b); or
 - (ii) the supplier may cancel the agreement 20 business days after giving written notice to the consumer of a material failure by the consumer to comply with the agreement, unless the consumer has rectified the failure within that time;
- (c) of not more than 80, nor less than 40, business days before the expiry date of the fixed term of the consumer agreement, the supplier must notify the consumer in writing or any other recordable form, of the impending expiry date, including a notice of—
 - (i) any material changes that would apply if the agreement is to be renewed or may otherwise continue beyond the expiry date; and
 - (ii) the options available to the consumer in terms of paragraph (d); and
- (d) on the expiry of the fixed term of the consumer agreement, it will be automatically continued on a month-to-month basis, subject to any material changes of which the supplier has given notice, as contemplated in paragraph (c), unless the consumer expressly—
 - (i) directs the supplier to terminate the agreement on the expiry date; or
 - (ii) agrees to a renewal of the agreement for a further fixed term.

(3) Upon cancellation of a consumer agreement as contemplated in subsection (1) (b)—

- (a) the consumer remains liable to the supplier for any amounts owed to the supplier in terms of that agreement up to the date of cancellation; and
- (b) the supplier—
 - (i) may impose a reasonable cancellation penalty with respect to any goods supplied, services provided, or discounts granted, to the consumer in contemplation of the agreement enduring for its intended fixed term, if any; and
 - (ii) must credit the consumer with any amount that remains the property of the consumer as of the date of cancellation, as prescribed in terms of subsection (4).

(4) The Minister may, by notice in the Gazette, prescribe—

- (a) the maximum duration for fixed-term consumer agreements, generally, or for specified categories of such agreements;
- (b) the manner and form of providing notices to the consumer in terms of subsection (2) (c);
- (c) the manner, form and basis for determining the reasonableness of credits and charges contemplated in subsection (3); and
- (d) other incidental matters as required to provide for the proper administration of this section.

15. Pre-authorisation of repair or maintenance services.—(1) This section applies only to a transaction or consumer agreement—

- (a) with a price value above the threshold prescribed in terms of subsection (5); and
- (b) if, in terms of that transaction or agreement, a service provider supplies a repair or maintenance service to, or supplies or installs any replacement parts or components in, any property belonging to or in the control of the consumer, and—
 - (i) the service provider has, or takes, possession of that property for the purpose contemplated in this paragraph; or
 - (ii) in any other case, the consumer requests an estimate before any services or goods are supplied.

(2) A service provider to whom this section applies, must not charge a consumer for the supply of any goods or services contemplated in subsection (1), unless—

- (a) the supplier or service provider has given the consumer an estimate that satisfies the prescribed requirements, and the consumer has subsequently authorised the work; or
- (b) the consumer, in writing, or by another recorded manner or form, has—
 - (i) declined the offer of an estimate, and authorised the work; or
 - (ii) pre-authorized any charges up to a specified maximum, and the amount charged does not exceed that maximum.

(3) A service provider to whom this section applies must not charge a consumer for preparing an estimate required in terms of subsection (2) (a), including—

- (a) any cost of performing any diagnostic work, disassembly or re-assembly required in order to prepare an estimate; or
- (b) any damage to or loss of material or parts in the course of preparing an estimate, unless, before preparing the estimate the service provider has disclosed the price for preparing that estimate, and the consumer has approved it.

(4) If a supplier has provided an estimate for any service, or goods and services, the supplier may not charge the consumer a price for that service, or those goods and services, that exceeds the estimate, unless after providing the estimate—

- (a) the service provider has informed the consumer of the additional estimated charges; and
- (b) the consumer has authorised the work to continue.

(5) The Minister may, by notice in the Gazette, prescribe a monetary threshold for the purpose of subsection (1) (a).

16. Consumer's right to cooling-off period after direct marketing.—(1) This section does not apply to a transaction if section 44 of the Electronic Communications and Transactions Act applies to that transaction.

(2) To the extent that this section applies to a transaction or agreement, it is in addition to and not in substitution for any right to rescind a transaction or agreement that may otherwise exist in law between a supplier and a consumer.

(3) A consumer may rescind a transaction resulting from any direct marketing without reason or penalty, by notice to the supplier in writing, or another recorded manner and form, within five business days after the later of the date on which—

- (a) the transaction or agreement was concluded; or
- (b) the goods that were the subject of the transaction were delivered to the consumer.

(4) A supplier must—

- (a) return any payment received from the consumer in terms of the transaction within 15 business days after—
 - (i) receiving notice of the rescission, if no goods had been delivered to the consumer in terms of the transaction; or
 - (ii) receiving from the consumer any goods supplied in terms of the transaction; and

- (b) not attempt to collect any payment in terms of a rescinded transaction, except as permitted in terms of section 20 (6).

17. Consumer's right to cancel advance reservation, booking or order.—(1) This section does not apply to a franchise agreement, or in respect of any special-order goods.

(2) Subject to subsections (3) and (4), a consumer has the right to cancel any advance booking, reservation or order for any goods or services to be supplied.

(3) A supplier who makes a commitment or accepts a reservation to supply goods or services on a later date may—

- (a) require payment of a reasonable deposit in advance; and
(b) impose a reasonable charge for cancellation of the order or reservation, subject to subsection (5).

(4) For the purposes of this section, a charge is unreasonable if it exceeds a fair amount in the circumstances, having regard to—

- (a) the nature of the goods or services that were reserved or booked;
(b) the length of notice of cancellation provided by the consumer;
(c) the reasonable potential for the service provider, acting diligently, to find an alternative consumer between the time of receiving the cancellation notice and the time of the cancelled reservation; and
(d) the general practice of the relevant industry.

(5) A supplier may not impose any cancellation fee in respect of a booking, reservation or order if the consumer is unable to honour the booking, reservation or order because of the death or hospitalisation of the person for whom, or for whose benefit the booking, reservation or order was made.

18. Consumer's right to choose or examine goods.—(1) Despite any statement or notice to the contrary, a consumer is not responsible for any loss or damage to any goods displayed by a supplier, unless the loss or damage results from action by the consumer amounting to gross negligence or recklessness, malicious behaviour or criminal conduct.

(2) If any goods are displayed in or sold from open stock, the consumer has the right to select or reject any particular item from that stock before completing the transaction.

(3) If the consumer has agreed to purchase goods solely on the basis of a description or sample, or both, provided by the supplier, the goods delivered to the consumer must in all material respects and characteristics correspond to that which an ordinary alert consumer would have been entitled to expect based on the description or on a reasonable examination of the sample, as the case may be.

(4) If a supply of goods is by sample, as well as by description, it is not sufficient that any of the goods correspond with the sample if the goods do not also correspond with the description.

19. Consumer's rights with respect to delivery of goods or supply of service.—(1) This section does not apply to—

- (a) the supply of goods or services to a franchisee in terms of a franchise agreement; or
(b) a transaction if the performance of that transaction is governed by section 46 of the Electronic Communications and Transactions Act.

(2) Unless otherwise expressly provided or anticipated in an agreement, it is an implied condition of every transaction for the supply of goods or services that—

- (a) the supplier is responsible to deliver the goods or perform the services—
(i) on the agreed date and at the agreed time, if any, or otherwise within a reasonable time after concluding the transaction or agreement;
(ii) at the agreed place of delivery or performance; and
(iii) at the cost of the supplier, in the case of delivery of goods; or
(b) the agreed place of delivery of goods or performance of services is the supplier's place of business, if the supplier has one, and if not, the supplier's residence; and
(c) goods to be delivered remain at the supplier's risk until the consumer has accepted delivery of them, in accordance with this section.

(3) If an agreement does not provide a specific date or time for delivery of any goods or performance of any services, the supplier must not require that the consumer accept delivery or performance of the services at an unreasonable time.

(4) The consumer is regarded to have accepted delivery of any goods on the earliest of the following circumstances:

- (a) When the consumer expressly or implicitly communicates to the supplier that the consumer has accepted delivery of such goods; or
- (b) when the goods have been delivered to the consumer, and—
 - (i) the consumer does anything in relation to the goods that would be inconsistent with the supplier's ownership of them; or
 - (ii) after the lapse of a reasonable time, the consumer retains the goods without intimating to the supplier that the consumer has rejected delivery of them, subject to subsection (5).

(5) When a supplier tenders delivery to a consumer of any goods, the supplier must, on request, allow the consumer a reasonable opportunity to examine those goods for the purpose of ascertaining whether the consumer is satisfied that the goods—

- (a) are of a type and quality reasonably contemplated in the agreement, and meet the tests set out in section 18 (3) and (4); and
- (b) in the case of a special-order agreement, reasonably conform to the material specifications of the special order.

(6) If the supplier tenders the delivery of goods or the performance of any services at a location, on a date or at a time other than as agreed with the consumer, the consumer may either—

- (a) accept the delivery or performance at that location, date and time;
- (b) require the delivery or performance at the agreed location, date and time, if that date and time have not yet passed; or
- (c) cancel the agreement without penalty, treating any delivered goods or performed services as unsolicited goods or services in accordance with section 21.

(7) If the supplier delivers to the consumer a larger quantity of goods than the consumer agreed to buy, the consumer may either—

- (a) reject all of the delivered goods; or
- (b) accept delivery of the goods, and—
 - (i) pay for the agreed quantity at the agreed rate; and
 - (ii) treat the excess quantity as unsolicited goods in accordance with section 21.

(8) If the supplier delivers to the consumer some of the goods the supplier agreed to supply mixed with goods of a different description not contemplated in the agreement, the consumer may—

- (a) accept delivery of the goods that are in accordance with the agreement and reject the rest; or
- (b) reject all of the delivered goods.

20. Consumer's right to return goods.—(1) This section is in addition to and not in substitution for—

- (a) the right to return unsafe or defective goods, contemplated in section 56; or
- (b) any other right in law between a supplier and consumer to return goods and receive a refund.

(2) Subject to subsections (3) to (6), the consumer may return goods to the supplier, and receive a full refund of any consideration paid for those goods, if the supplier has delivered—

- (a) goods to the consumer in terms of an agreement arising out of direct marketing, and the consumer has rescinded that agreement during the cooling-off period, in accordance with section 16;
- (b) goods that the consumer did not have an opportunity to examine before delivery, and the consumer has rejected delivery of those goods for any of the reasons contemplated in section 19 (5);
- (c) a mixture of goods, and the consumer has refused delivery of any of those goods, as contemplated in section 19 (8); or
- (d) goods intended to satisfy a particular purpose communicated to the supplier as contemplated in section 55 (3), and within 10 business days after delivery to the consumer, the goods have been found to be unsuitable for that particular purpose.

(3) Subsection (2) does not apply with respect to any goods if—

- (a) for reasons of public health or otherwise, a public regulation prohibits the return of those goods to a supplier once they have been supplied to, or at the direction of, a consumer; or
- (b) after having been supplied to, or at the direction of, the consumer, the goods have been partially or entirely disassembled, physically altered, permanently installed, affixed, attached, joined or added to, blended or combined with, or embedded within, other goods or property.

(4) Goods returnable in terms of—

- (a) subsection (2) (a) must be returned to the supplier at the consumer's risk and expense; or

(b) subsection (2) (b) to (d) must be returned to the supplier at the supplier's risk and expense, within 10 business days after delivery to the consumer.

(5) Upon return of any goods in terms of this section, the supplier must refund to the consumer the price paid for the goods, less any amount that may be charged in terms of subsection (6).

(6) In determining the right of a supplier to impose a charge contemplated in subsection (5), if any goods returned to the supplier in terms of this section are—

- (a) in the original unopened packaging, the supplier may not charge the consumer any amount in respect of the goods;
- (b) in their original condition and repackaged in their original packaging, the supplier may charge the consumer a reasonable amount for—
 - (i) use of the goods during the time they were in the consumer's possession, unless they are goods that are ordinarily consumed or depleted by use, and no such consumption or depletion has occurred; or
 - (ii) any consumption or depletion of the goods, unless that consumption or depletion is limited to a reasonable amount necessary to determine whether the goods were acceptable to the consumer; or
- (c) in any other case, the supplier may charge the consumer a reasonable amount—
 - (i) as contemplated in paragraph (b); and
 - (ii) for necessary restoration costs to render the goods fit for re-stocking, unless, having regard to the nature of the goods, and the manner in which they were packaged, it was necessary for the consumer to destroy the packaging in order to determine whether the goods—
 - (aa) conformed to the description or sample provided, in the case of goods that had not been examined by the consumer before delivery, as contemplated in subsection (2) (b); or
 - (bb) were fit for the intended purpose, in a case contemplated in subsection (2) (d).

21. Unsolicited goods or services.—(1) For the purpose of this Act, goods or services are unsolicited in any of the following circumstances, subject to subsection (2):

- (a) If, during any direct marketing of goods or services, a supplier or person acting on behalf of a supplier has left any goods with, or performed any service for, a consumer without requiring or arranging payment for them, those goods or services, as the case may be, are unsolicited;
- (b) if a consumer is a party to an agreement contemplating the periodic delivery of goods during the life of the agreement, and—
 - (i) during the course of that agreement, the supplier introduces goods or services that are materially different from the goods or services previously supplied to an extent not reasonably contemplated in the agreement, the new goods or services are unsolicited, unless the consumer expressly consented to the material change; or
 - (ii) after the termination of that agreement, the supplier delivers any further goods to the consumer, other than in terms of a different agreement or transaction, those further goods are unsolicited goods;
- (c) if a supplier delivers goods or performs services at a location, date or time other than as agreed, and the consumer has rejected that delivery or performance of services, as contemplated in section 19 (6), those goods or services are unsolicited;
- (d) if a supplier delivers a larger quantity of goods than the consumer agreed to buy, the excess goods are unsolicited unless the consumer has rejected the entire delivery, as contemplated in section 19 (7) (a); or
- (e) if any goods have been delivered to, or any services performed for, a consumer by or on behalf of a supplier without the consumer having expressly or implicitly requested that delivery or performance, the goods or services, as the case may be, are unsolicited goods.

(2) Despite subsection (1), if—

- (a) within 10 business days after delivery of any goods to a consumer, the supplier informs the consumer that the goods were delivered in error, those goods become unsolicited only if the supplier fails to recover them within 20 business days after so informing the consumer; or
- (b) any goods are delivered to a consumer and—
 - (i) those goods are clearly addressed to another person, and have obviously been misdelivered; or
 - (ii) having regard to the circumstances of the delivery, it would be apparent to the ordinary alert consumer that the goods were intended to be delivered to another person, the goods become unsolicited goods only if the recipient informs the apparent supplier or the deliverer that the goods were misdelivered, and the goods are not recovered within the following 20 business days.

(3) If a person is in possession of goods contemplated in this section, the person—

- (a) must not frustrate or impede any reasonable action by the supplier or deliverer to recover the goods within the time allowed in subsection (2);
- (b) is not responsible for any cost pertaining to the recovery of the goods or further delivery of them to another person; and
- (c) is not liable for any loss or damage to the goods during the time they are in the person's possession or control, other than loss caused by the person's intentional interference with the goods, if any.

(4) A person who fails to comply with subsection (3) (a) is liable to the supplier or deliverer, as the case may be, for any additional costs for recovery of, or damage to, the goods arising as a result of anything done to frustrate or impede the lawful recovery of those goods.

(5) If a person is in possession of any unsolicited goods, the person may—

- (a) retain the goods; or
- (b) return the goods to the apparent supplier or deliverer at the risk and expense of the supplier or deliverer, as the case may be.

(6) If a person lawfully retains any unsolicited goods—

- (a) the property in those goods passes unconditionally to the person, subject only to any right or valid claim that an uninvolved third party may have with respect to those goods; and
- (b) the person who supplied or delivered those goods is liable to any other person in respect of any right or valid claim relating to such goods.

(7) A person has no obligation to pay a supplier for unsolicited goods or services, or a deliverer for the cost of delivery of any unsolicited goods.

(8) A supplier must not demand or assert any right to, or attempt to collect, any payment from a consumer in respect of any charge relating to unsolicited goods left in the possession of a consumer, or the delivery of any such goods, or unsolicited services supplied to or for the benefit of, a consumer, except as contemplated in subsection (4).

(9) If a consumer has made any payment to a supplier or deliverer in respect of any charge relating to unsolicited goods or services, or the delivery of any such goods, the consumer is entitled to recover that amount, with interest from the date on which it was paid to the supplier, in accordance with the Prescribed Rate of Interest Act, 1975 (Act No. 55 of 1975).

Part D

Right to disclosure and information

22. Right to information in plain and understandable language.—(1) The producer of a notice, document or visual representation that is required, in terms of this Act or any other law, to be produced, provided or displayed to a consumer must produce, provide or display that notice, document or visual representation—

- (a) in the form prescribed in terms of this Act or any other legislation, if any, for that notice, document or visual representation; or
- (b) in plain language, if no form has been prescribed for that notice, document or visual representation.

(2) For the purposes of this Act, a notice, document or visual representation is in plain language if it is reasonable to conclude that an ordinary consumer of the class of persons for whom the notice, document or visual representation is intended, with average literacy skills and minimal experience as a consumer of the relevant goods or services, could be expected to understand the content, significance and import of the notice, document or visual representation without undue effort, having regard to—

- (a) the context, comprehensiveness and consistency of the notice, document or visual representation;
- (b) the organisation, form and style of the notice, document or visual representation;
- (c) the vocabulary, usage and sentence structure of the notice, document or visual representation; and
- (d) the use of any illustrations, examples, headings or other aids to reading and understanding.

(3) The Commission may publish guidelines for methods of assessing whether a notice, document or visual representation satisfies the requirements of subsection (1) (b).

(4) Guidelines published in terms of subsection (3) may be published for public comment.

23. Disclosure of price of goods or services.—(1) This section does not apply to a transaction if—

- (a) a supplier has provided an estimate pertaining to that transaction, or the consumer has waived such an estimate, as contemplated in section 15; or

(b) section 43 of the Electronic Communications and Transactions Act applies to that transaction.

(2) In this section, "price" includes a unit price.

(3) Subject to subsection (4), a retailer must not display any goods for sale without displaying to the consumer a price in relation to those goods.

(4) A retailer is not required to display a price for any goods that are displayed predominantly as a form of advertisement of the supplier, or of goods or services, in an area within the supplier's premises to which the public does not ordinarily have access.

(5) A price is adequately displayed to a consumer if, in relation to any particular goods, a written indication of the price, expressed in the currency of the Republic, is—

(a) annexed or affixed to, written, printed, stamped or located upon, or otherwise applied to the goods or to any band, ticket, covering, label, package, reel, shelf or other thing used in connection with the goods or on which the goods are mounted for display or exposed for sale;

(b) in any way represented in a manner from which it may reasonably be inferred that the price represented is a price applicable to the goods or services in question; or

(c) published in relation to the goods in a catalogue, brochure, circular or similar form of publication available to that consumer, or to the public generally, if—

(i) a time is specified in the catalogue, brochure, circular or similar form of publication as the time after which the goods may not be sold at that price, and that time has not yet passed; or

(ii) in any other case, the catalogue, brochure, circular or similar form of publication is dated, and in the circumstances may reasonably be regarded as not out of date.

(6) Subject to subsections (7) to (10), a supplier must not require a consumer to pay a price for any goods or services—

(a) higher than the displayed price for those goods or services; or

(b) if more than one price is concurrently displayed, higher than the lower or lowest of the prices so displayed.

(7) Subsection (6) does not apply in respect of the price of any goods or services if the price of those goods or services is determined by or in terms of any public regulation.

(8) If a price that was once displayed has been fully covered and obscured by a second displayed price, that second price must be regarded as the displayed price.

(9) If a price as displayed contains an inadvertent and obvious error, the supplier is not bound by it after—

(a) correcting the error in the displayed price; and

(b) taking reasonable steps in the circumstances to inform consumers to whom the erroneous price may have been displayed of the error and the correct price.

(10) A supplier is not bound by a price displayed in relationship to any goods or services if an unauthorised person has altered, defaced, covered, removed or obscured the price displayed or authorised by the supplier.

(11) If, in addition to displaying a price in relation to any goods or services, a supplier has advertised or displayed a placard or similar device announcing that prices are, will be or have been reduced by—

(a) a monetary value, generally or in relationship to any particular goods or services, the displayed price for the purpose of subsection (6) must be regarded as being the price immediately displayed in relationship to the goods or services, minus the announced monetary reduction; or

(b) a percentage value, generally or in relationship to any particular goods or services, the displayed price for the purpose of subsection (6) must be regarded as being the price immediately displayed in relationship to the goods or services, minus an amount determined by multiplying that price by the percentage shown, unless the supplier has applied two or more prices immediately to the goods or services concerned, and the difference between the highest and lower or lowest of those applied prices is equivalent to the advertised or placarded reduction in price.

24. Product labelling and trade descriptions.—(1) For the purposes of this section, a trade description is applied to goods if it is—

(a) applied to the goods, or to any covering, label or reel in or on which the goods are packaged, or attached to the goods;

(b) displayed together with, or in proximity to, the goods in a manner that is likely to lead to the belief that the goods are designated or described by that description; or

(c) is contained in any sign, advertisement, catalogue, brochure, circular, wine list, invoice, business letter, business paper or other commercial communication on the basis of which a consumer may request or order the goods.

(2) A person must not—

- (a) knowingly apply to any goods a trade description that is likely to mislead the consumer as to any matter implied or expressed in that trade description; or
- (b) alter, deface, cover, remove or obscure a trade description or trade mark applied to any goods in a manner calculated to mislead consumers.

(3) A retailer of goods must—

- (a) not offer to supply, display or supply any particular goods if the retailer knows, reasonably could determine or has reason to suspect that—
 - (i) a trade description applied to those goods is likely to mislead the consumer as to any matter implied or expressed in that trade description; or
 - (ii) a trade description or trade mark applied to those goods has been altered as contemplated in subsection (2) (b); and
- (b) with respect to any goods within the retailer's control, take reasonable steps to prevent any other person from doing anything contemplated in paragraph (a) or subsection (2) (b).

(4) The Minister may prescribe—

- (a) categories of goods that are required to have a trade description applied to them, as contemplated in subsection (5);
- (b) the rules to be used in accordance with any international agreement for the purpose of determining the country of origin of any goods or components of any goods; and
- (c) the information that is required to be included in any trade description, from among the categories of information contemplated in the definition of "trade description" in section 1.

(5) The producer or importer of any goods that have been prescribed in terms of subsection (4) must apply a trade description to those goods, disclosing—

- (a) the country of origin of the goods; and
- (b) any other prescribed information.

(6) Any person who produces, supplies, imports or packages any prescribed goods must display on, or in association with the packaging of those goods, a notice in the prescribed manner and form that discloses the presence of any genetically modified ingredients or components of those goods in accordance with applicable regulations.

25. Disclosure of reconditioned or grey market goods.—(1) A person who offers or agrees to supply, or supplies, any goods that—

- (a) have been reconditioned, rebuilt or remade; and
- (b) that bear the trade mark of the original producer or supplier, must apply a conspicuous notice to those goods stating clearly that they have been reconditioned, rebuilt or remade, as the case may be.

(2) A person who markets any goods that bear a trade mark, but have been imported without the approval or licence of the registered owner of that trade mark, must apply a conspicuous notice to those goods in the prescribed manner and form.

26. Sales records.—(1) This section does not apply to a transaction if—

- (a) section 43 of the Electronic Communications and Transactions Act applies to that transaction; or
- (b) the transaction has been exempted in terms of subsection (3).

(2) A supplier of goods or services must provide a written record of each transaction to the consumer to whom any goods or services are supplied.

(3) The record contemplated in subsection (2) must include at least the following information:

- (a) The supplier's full name, or registered business name, and VAT registration number, if any;
- (b) the address of the premises at which, or from which, the goods or services were supplied;
- (c) the date on which the transaction occurred;
- (d) a name or description of any goods or services supplied or to be supplied;
- (e) the unit price of any particular goods or services supplied or to be supplied;
- (f) the quantity of any particular goods or services supplied or to be supplied;
- (g) the total price of the transaction, before any applicable taxes;

- (h) the amount of any applicable taxes; and
- (i) the total price of the transaction, including any applicable taxes.

(4) The Minister may, by notice in the Gazette, exempt categories of goods or services, or circumstances of trade, from the application of subsections (2) and (3).

27. Disclosure by intermediaries.—(1) An intermediary must—

- (a) disclose prescribed information to—
 - (i) any person whom the intermediary solicits or agrees to represent with respect to the sale of any property or services, or from whom the intermediary accepts any property for the purpose of offering it for sale; and
 - (ii) any person from whom the intermediary solicits an offer, or to whom the intermediary offers to supply or supplies—
 - (aa) any service to be performed by a third person; or
 - (bb) any goods or property belonging to a third person; and
- (b) keep the prescribed records of all relationships and transactions contemplated in this section.

(2) Subsection (1) does not apply to an intermediary who is—

- (a) the executor or other administrator of a deceased's estate, in respect of any property of that estate;
- (b) the liquidator of an insolvent estate, in respect of any property of that estate; or
- (c) a trustee in respect of any trust property.

(3) The Minister may prescribe—

- (a) the information, including the manner and form of delivery of any such information, that an intermediary, or different categories of intermediary, must provide in terms of this section; and
- (b) any records, including the form and content of any such records, that an intermediary, or different categories of intermediary, must keep in terms of this section.

28. Identification of deliverers, installers and others.—Whenever a person is engaged in direct marketing in person at the premises of a consumer, or performing any services for a consumer at any such premises, or delivering any goods to, or installing any goods for, a consumer, at any such premises, that person must—

- (a) visibly wear or display a badge or similar identification device that satisfies any prescribed standards; or
- (b) provide suitable identification on request by the consumer.

Part E
Right to fair and responsible marketing

29. General standards for marketing of goods or services.—A producer, importer, distributor, retailer or service provider must not market any goods or services—

- (a) in a manner that is reasonably likely to imply a false or misleading representation concerning those goods or services, as contemplated in section 41; or
- (b) in a manner that is misleading, fraudulent or deceptive in any way, including in respect of—
 - (i) the nature, properties, advantages or uses of the goods or services;
 - (ii) the manner in or conditions on which those goods or services may be supplied;
 - (iii) the price at which the goods may be supplied, or the existence of, or relationship of the price to, any previous price or competitor's price for comparable or similar goods or services;
 - (iv) the sponsoring of any event; or
 - (v) any other material aspect of the goods or services.

30. Bait marketing.—(1) A supplier must not advertise any particular goods or services as being available at a specified price in a manner that may result in consumers being misled or deceived in any respect relating to the actual availability of those goods or services from that supplier, at that advertised price.

(2) If a supplier advertises particular goods or services as being available at a specified price, and the advertisement expressly states a limitation in respect of the availability of those goods or services from that supplier at that price, the supplier must make those goods or services available at that price, to the extent of the expressed limits.

(3) It is a defence to an alleged failure to comply with subsection (1) or (2) if—

- (a) the supplier offered to supply or procure another person to supply a consumer with the same or equivalent goods or services of the kind advertised within a reasonable time, in a reasonable quantity, and at the advertised price; and
- (b) the consumer—
 - (i) unreasonably refused that offer; or
 - (ii) accepted the offer, and the supplier has supplied or procured another person to supply the goods or services so offered and accepted.

31. Negative option marketing.—(1) A supplier must not—

- (a) promote any goods or services;
- (b) offer to enter into or modify an agreement for the supply of any goods or services; or
- (c) induce a person to accept any goods or services or to enter into or modify such an agreement, on the basis that the goods or services are to be supplied, or the agreement or modification will automatically come into existence, unless the consumer declines such offer or inducement.

(2) An agreement purportedly entered into as a result of an offer or inducement contemplated in subsection (1) is void.

(3) A modification of an agreement purportedly agreed to as a result of an offer or inducement contemplated in subsection (1) is void.

32. Direct marketing to consumers.—(1) A person who is directly marketing any goods or services, and who concludes a transaction or agreement with a consumer, must inform the consumer, in the prescribed manner and form, of the right to rescind that agreement, as set out in section 16.

(2) If a person who has marketed any goods as contemplated in subsection (1) left any goods with the consumer without requiring or arranging payment for them, those goods are unsolicited goods, to which section 21 applies.

33. Catalogue marketing.—(1) This section does not apply to—

- (a) a franchise agreement; or
- (b) a transaction if Chapter 7 of the Electronic Communications and Transactions Act applies to it.

(2) This section applies to an agreement for the supply of goods or services that is not entered into in person, including an agreement concluded—

- (a) telephonically, if the contact is initiated by the consumer; or
- (b) by postal order or fax, or in any similar manner in which, with respect to goods, the consumer does not have the opportunity to inspect the goods that are the subject of the transaction before concluding the agreement.

(3) Before concluding an agreement or transaction, a supplier must disclose the following information to a consumer, in an appropriate manner, having regard to the manner in which the supplier and consumer communicate in concluding the transaction:

- (a) The supplier's name and licence or registration number, if any;
- (b) the address of the supplier's physical business premises and related contact details;
- (c) the sales record information required by section 26;
- (d) the currency in which amounts under the agreement are payable;
- (e) the supplier's delivery arrangements, including—
 - (i) the identity of the shipper;
 - (ii) the mode of transportation; and
 - (iii) the place of delivery to the consumer;
- (f) the supplier's cancellation, return, exchange and refund policies, if any;
- (g) the manner and form in which a complaint may be lodged; and
- (h) any other prescribed information.

34. Trade coupons and similar promotions.—(1) This section does not apply to—

- (a) a franchise agreement;

(b) a loyalty programme, loyalty credit or award regulated in terms of section 35; or

(c) a promotional competition, as defined and regulated in terms of section 36.

(2) In this section, "promotional offer" means an offer or promise, expressed in any manner, of any prize, reward, gift, free good or service, price reduction or concession, enhancement of quantity or quality of goods or services, irrespective of whether or not acceptance of the offer is conditional on the offeree entering into any other transaction.

(3) A person must not make a promotional offer with the intention of—

(a) not fulfilling it; or

(b) fulfilling it other than as offered.

(4) Any document setting out a promotional offer must clearly state—

(a) the nature of the prize, reward, gift, free good or service, price reduction or concession, enhancement of quantity or quality of goods or services, or other discounted or free thing being offered;

(b) the goods or services to which the offer relates;

(c) the steps required by a consumer to accept the offer or to receive the benefit of the offer; and

(d) the particulars of any person from whom, any place where, and any date and time on or at which, the consumer may receive the prize, reward, gift, free good or service, price reduction or concession, enhancement of quantity or quality of goods or services or other discounted or free thing.

(5) Subject to subsection (6), a person who makes or sponsors a promotional offer must—

(a) ensure that the supply of the particular prize, reward, gift, free or reduced price good, or the capacity to provide enhanced quality or services, is sufficient to accommodate all reasonably anticipated demands resulting from the offer;

(b) not limit or restrict capacity to supply any such goods or services in response to the acceptance of the offer, on any basis other than that it applies to such a supply in exchange for any other form of consideration;

(c) not require the consumer to accept an inferior quality of any such goods or services than those generally available to any other consumer on the same date who tenders a different form of consideration; and

(d) not impose any monetary charge for the administration, processing or handling of a transaction in respect of which the consumer tenders a trade coupon.

(6) It is a defence to an alleged failure to comply with subsection (5) (a) if the supplier offered to supply or procure another person to supply a consumer with comparable goods or services of the relevant kind to satisfy the consumer's acceptance of the promotional offer, and the consumer—

(a) accepted the supplier's offer, and the supplier has supplied or procured another person to supply the goods or services so offered and accepted; or

(b) unreasonably refused the supplier's offer.

35. Customer loyalty programmes.—(1) Despite any provision in any law, agreement or notice to the contrary, for all purposes of this Act, loyalty credits or awards are a legal medium of exchange when offered or tendered as consideration for any goods or services offered, or transaction contemplated, in terms of that loyalty programme.

(2) A person must not offer participation in a loyalty programme, or offer any loyalty credit or award with the intention of—

(a) not providing it; or

(b) providing it in a manner other than as offered.

(3) Any document setting out an offer contemplated in subsection (2) must clearly state—

(a) the nature of the programme, credit or award being offered;

(b) the goods or services to which the offer relates;

(c) the steps required by a consumer to participate in the programme or to receive any benefit in terms of the programme; and

(d) any person from whom, any place where, and any date and time on or at which, the consumer may gain access to the programme, or to any loyalty credit or awards in terms of the programme.

(4) Subject to subsections (5) and (6), the sponsor of a loyalty programme, or a supplier who offers or holds out a willingness, to accept any loyalty credits or awards as consideration or in exchange for any particular goods or services, must—

(a) ensure that the supply of those particular goods or services available at any time is sufficient to accommodate all reasonably anticipated demands for those goods or services in exchange for loyalty credits or awards;

- (b) not limit or restrict capacity to supply those particular goods or services in exchange for such credits or awards on any basis other than that it applies to such a supply in exchange for any other form of consideration;
- (c) accept any tender of sufficient loyalty credits or awards as adequate consideration for the price of those particular goods or services if, at that time, it has capacity available for supply in exchange for any other form of consideration;
- (d) not require the consumer to accept an inferior quality of those particular goods or services than those generally available to any other consumer on the same date who tenders a different form of consideration;
- (e) not impose any monetary charge in respect of the administration, processing or handling of such a transaction if the consumer is required to pay a periodic fee to remain a member of the programme; and
- (f) not demand that the consumer purchase any other goods or services in connection with that transaction.

(5) A sponsor of a loyalty programme, or a supplier of goods or services who accepts loyalty credits or awards as consideration for any particular goods or services, may impose a partial or complete restriction on the availability of any such goods or services in exchange for loyalty credits or awards during any specific period, if the programme sponsor has directly or indirectly given notice in writing to the members of that programme at least 20 business days before the beginning of that period, but the total of all such periods within a calendar year must not exceed 90 days.

(6) It is a defence to an alleged failure to comply with subsection (4) (a) if the supplier offered to supply or procure another person to supply a consumer with comparable goods or services of the relevant kind to satisfy the consumer's request, for no consideration beyond the advertised price expressed in loyalty awards, and the consumer—

- (a) accepted the offer, and the supplier has supplied or procured another person to supply the goods or services so offered and accepted; or
- (b) unreasonably refused that offer.

36. Promotional competitions.—(1) In this section—

- (a) "participant" means a person who enters, competes in or is otherwise eligible to win a promotional competition;
- (b) "prize" includes a reward, gift, free good or service, price reduction or concession, enhancement of quantity or quality of goods or services, or other discounted or free thing;
- (c) "promoter" means a person who directly or indirectly promotes, sponsors, organises or conducts a promotional competition, or for whose benefit such a competition is promoted, sponsored, organised or conducted; and
- (d) "promotional competition" means any competition, game, scheme, arrangement, system, plan or device for distributing prizes by lot or chance if—
 - (i) it is conducted in the ordinary course of business for the purpose of promoting a producer, distributor, supplier, or association of any such persons, or the sale of any goods or services; and
 - (ii) any prize offered exceeds the threshold prescribed in terms of subsection (11), irrespective of whether a participant is required to demonstrate any skill or ability before being awarded a prize.

(2) A person must not directly or indirectly inform another person that a participant has—

- (a) won a competition, if—
 - (i) no competition has in fact been conducted;
 - (ii) the person has not in fact won the competition;
 - (iii) the prize for that competition is subject to a previously undisclosed condition; or
 - (iv) the person is required to offer further consideration for the prize, after the results of the competition have been announced; or
- (b) a right to a prize—
 - (i) to which the person does not in fact have a right;
 - (ii) if the prize was generally available or offered to all similarly situated persons or class of persons; or

(iii) if, before becoming eligible to receive the prize, the person is required to offer further consideration for the prize or to purchase any particular goods or services.

(3) The promoter of a promotional competition—

- (a) must not require any consideration to be paid by or on behalf of any participant in the promotional competition, other than the reasonable costs of posting or otherwise transmitting an entry form or device;
- (b) must not award a prize in a competition to—
 - (i) a winner of the competition if it is unlawful to supply those goods or services to that prize winner, but this subparagraph does not preclude awarding a prize to a person merely because that person's right to possess or use the prize is or may be restricted or regulated by, or is otherwise subject to, any public regulation; or
 - (ii) any person who is—
 - (aa) a director, member, partner, employee or agent of, or consultant to the promoter or any other person who directly or indirectly controls or is controlled by, the promoter; or
 - (bb) a supplier of goods or services in connection with that competition; and
- (c) must—
 - (i) prepare competition rules before the beginning of the competition;
 - (ii) make the competition rules available to the Commission and to any participant, on request and without cost; and
 - (iii) retain a copy of the competition rules for the prescribed period after the end of the competition.

(4) For greater certainty in applying subsection (3) (a), but without limiting the generality of that paragraph, a promoter must be regarded as having required or received consideration in respect of a promotional competition if

- (a) a participant is required to pay any consideration, directly or indirectly, for the opportunity to participate in the promotional competition, for access to the competition or for any device by which a person may participate in the competition; or
- (b) participation in the promotional competition requires the purchase of any goods or services, and the price charged for those goods or services is more than the price, excluding discounts, ordinarily charged for those or similar goods or services without the opportunity of taking part in a promotional competition.

(5) An offer to participate in a promotional competition must clearly state—

- (a) the benefit or competition to which the offer relates;
- (b) the steps required by a person to accept the offer or to participate in the competition;
- (c) the basis on which the results of the competition will be determined;
- (d) the closing date for the competition;
- (e) the medium through or by which the results of the competition will be made known; and
- (f) any person from whom, any place where, and any date and time on or at which—
 - (i) a person may obtain a copy of the competition rules; and
 - (ii) a successful participant may receive any prize.

(6) The requirements of subsection (5) may be satisfied either—

- (a) directly on any medium through which a person participates in a promotional competition;
- (b) on a document accompanying any medium contemplated in paragraph (a); or
- (c) in any advertisement that—
 - (i) is published during the time and throughout the area in which the promotional competition is conducted; and
 - (ii) draws attention to and is clearly associated with the promotional competition.

(7) The right to participate in a promotional competition is fully vested in a person immediately upon—

- (a) complying with any conditions that are required to earn that right; and
- (b) acquiring possession or control of the medium, if any, through which a person may participate in that promotional competition.

(8) The right to any benefit or right conferred on a person as a result of that person's participation in a promotional competition is fully vested immediately upon the determination of the results of the competition.

(9) A right contemplated in subsection (7) or (8) must not be—

- (a) made subject to any further condition; or
- (b) contingent upon a person—
 - (i) paying any consideration to the promoter for the prize; or
 - (ii) satisfying any further requirements other than those stipulated in terms of subsection (5).

(10) Section 35 (5), read with the changes required by the context, applies equally in respect of any prize or right to a prize conferred on a person as a result of that person's participation in a promotional competition.

(11) The Minister may prescribe—

- (a) a monetary threshold for the purpose of excluding competitions with low-value prizes from the definition of "promotional competition";
- (b) minimum standards and forms for keeping records associated with promotional competitions; and
- (c) audit and reporting requirements in respect of promotional competitions.

37. Alternative work schemes.—(1) A person must not make a false representation with respect to the availability, or extent of availability, actual or potential profitability, risk or other material aspect of the work, business or activity involved in any arrangement of an activity for gain in terms of which one person—

- (a) invites, solicits or requires other persons to conduct the work, business or activity from their homes;
- (b) represents to others as being practicable, to a considerable extent, to conduct the work, business or activity from their homes; or
- (c) invites, solicits or requires other persons to perform any work, business or activity, invest money, or perform any work, business or activity in association with the investment of money.

(2) An advertisement promoting any matter contemplated in subsection (1) must—

- (a) be accompanied by a cautionary statement in the prescribed wording and form, disclosing the uncertainty of the extent of—
 - (i) work, business or activity available; and
 - (ii) income or other benefit to be derived;
- (b) disclose at least the following information:
 - (i) The full name, or registered business name, of the person promoting the matter, and the address and contact numbers of that person's primary place of conducting the business; and
 - (ii) the nature of the work, business, activity or investment.

(3) A person must not place an advertisement contemplated in subsection (2) otherwise than in accordance with the requirements of this section.

(4) A person who does anything contemplated in subsection (1) (a) to (c) must not charge any person a fee in respect of the promotion or conduct of any such work, business, activity or investment, except to the extent that the person charged has been assigned and performed the contemplated work, business, activity, or made or received the contemplated investment.

38. Referral selling.—(1) A person must not promote, offer, supply, agree to supply, or induce a consumer to accept any goods or services on the representation that the consumer will receive a rebate, commission or other benefit if—

- (a) the consumer subsequently—
 - (i) gives the supplier the names of consumers; or
 - (ii) otherwise assists the supplier to supply goods or services to other consumers; and
- (b) that rebate, commission or other benefit is contingent upon an event occurring after the consumer agrees to the transaction.

(2) A statement by a consumer, whether in an agreement or otherwise, to the effect that the consumer was motivated to enter into a transaction contemplated in subsection (1) predominately for the value of the goods or services, rather than for the rebate, commission or benefit, is not a defence to an allegation that a person has contravened subsection (1).

(3) This section does not apply to a franchise agreement.

39. Agreements with persons lacking legal capacity.—(1) An agreement to enter into a transaction, or for the supply of any goods or services, to or at the direction of a consumer—

- (a) is void if the consumer is subject to an order of a competent court holding that person to be mentally unfit and the supplier knew, or could reasonably have determined, that the consumer was the subject of such an order; or

- (b) is voidable at the option of the consumer, if—
 - (i) at the time the agreement was made the consumer was an unemancipated minor;
 - (ii) the agreement was made without the consent of an adult responsible for that minor; and
 - (iii) the agreement has not been ratified by either—
 - (aa) an adult responsible for that minor; or
 - (bb) the consumer after being emancipated or becoming an adult.

(2) Subsection (1) does not apply to an agreement if the consumer, or any person acting on behalf of the consumer, directly or indirectly, by act or omission—

- (a) induced the supplier to believe that the consumer had an unfettered legal capacity to contract; or
- (b) attempted to obscure or suppress the fact that the consumer did not have an unfettered legal capacity to contract.

Part F
Right to fair and honest dealing

40. Unconscionable conduct.—(1) A supplier or an agent of the supplier must not use physical force against a consumer, coercion, undue influence, pressure, duress or harassment, unfair tactics or any other similar conduct, in connection with any—

- (a) marketing of any goods or services;
- (b) supply of goods or services to a consumer;
- (c) negotiation, conclusion, execution or enforcement of an agreement to supply any goods or services to a consumer;
- (d) demand for, or collection of, payment for goods or services by a consumer; or
- (e) recovery of goods from a consumer.

(2) In addition to any conduct contemplated in subsection (1), it is unconscionable for a supplier knowingly to take advantage of the fact that a consumer was substantially unable to protect the consumer's own interests because of physical or mental disability, illiteracy, ignorance, inability to understand the language of an agreement, or any other similar factor.

(3) Section 51 applies to any court proceedings concerning this section.

41. False, misleading or deceptive representations.—(1) In relation to the marketing of any goods or services, the supplier must not, by words or conduct—

- (a) directly or indirectly express or imply a false, misleading or deceptive representation concerning a material fact to a consumer;
- (b) use exaggeration, innuendo or ambiguity as to a material fact, or fail to disclose a material fact if that failure amounts to a deception; or
- (c) fail to correct an apparent misapprehension on the part of a consumer, amounting to a false, misleading or deceptive representation, or permit or require any other person to do so on behalf of the supplier.

(2) A person acting on behalf of a supplier of any goods or services must not—

- (a) falsely represent that the person has any sponsorship, approval or affiliation; or
- (b) engage in any conduct that the supplier is prohibited from engaging in under subsection (1).

(3) Without limiting the generality of subsections (1) and (2), it is a false, misleading or deceptive representation to falsely state or imply, or fail to correct an apparent misapprehension on the part of a consumer to the effect, that—

- (a) the supplier of any goods or services has any particular status, affiliation, connection, sponsorship or approval that they do not have;
- (b) any goods or services—
 - (i) have ingredients, performance characteristics, accessories, uses, benefits, qualities, sponsorship or approval that they do not have;
 - (ii) are of a particular standard, quality, grade, style or model;

- (iii) are new or unused, if they are not or if they are reconditioned or reclaimed, subject to subsection (4);
- (iv) have been used for a period to an extent or in a manner that is materially different from the facts;
- (v) have been supplied in accordance with a previous representation; or
- (vi) are available or can be delivered or performed within a specified time;
- (c) any land or other immovable property—
 - (i) has characteristics that it does not have;
 - (ii) may lawfully be used, or is capable of being used, for a purpose that is in fact unlawful or impracticable; or
 - (iii) has or is proximate to any facilities, amenities or natural features that it does not have, or that are not available or proximate to it;
- (d) the necessary service, maintenance or repair facilities or parts are readily available for or within a reasonable period;
- (e) any service, part, replacement, maintenance or repair is needed or advisable;
- (f) a specific price advantage exists;
- (g) a charge or proposed charge is for a specific purpose;
- (h) an employee, salesperson, representative or agent has the necessary authority to negotiate the terms of, or conclude, an agreement;
- (i) the transaction affects, or does not affect, any rights, remedies or obligations of a consumer;
- (j) a particular solicitation of, or communication with, the consumer is for a particular purpose; or
- (k) the consumer will derive a particular benefit if they assist the supplier in obtaining a new or potential customer.

(4) A representation contemplated in subsection (3) (b) (iii) to the effect that any goods are new is not false, misleading or deceptive if those goods have been used only—

- (a) by or on behalf of the producer, importer, distributor or retailer; and
- (b) for the purposes of reasonable testing, service, preparation or delivery.

(5) Section 51 applies to any court proceedings concerning this section.

42. Fraudulent schemes and offers.—(1) A person must not initiate, sponsor, promote or knowingly participate in the distribution of any communication that—

- (a) offers to supply, or enter into an agreement to supply, any goods or services, or offers to enter into a transaction, or invites offers to enter into a transaction; and
- (b) falsely states, implies or represents that—
 - (i) the communication is authorised by another person; or
 - (ii) the author of the communication represents another person.

(2) A person must not directly or indirectly promote, or knowingly join, enter or participate in—

- (a) a fraudulent currency scheme, as described in subsection (3);
- (b) a fraudulent financial transaction, as described in subsection (4);
- (c) a fraudulent transfer of property or legal rights, as described in subsection (5); or
- (d) any other scheme declared by the Minister in terms of subsection (8), or cause another person to do so.

(3) An arrangement, agreement, practice or scheme is a fraudulent currency scheme if it involves a person—

- (a) with the intent to defraud another person, representing that the first person is capable of—
 - (i) producing currency by washing, dipping or otherwise treating any substance that is not currency with a chemical substance, or exposing it to an electrical charge, or to radiation of any kind; or
 - (ii) producing currency, or increasing a sum of money, through scientific means, invocation of any juju or use of other invisible medium; or
- (b) making or issuing any currency, or making representations as being capable of doing so, unless the person is an authorised producer of that currency.

(4) An arrangement, agreement, practice or scheme is a fraudulent financial transaction if it involves any proceeds of a specified unlawful activity—

- (a) with intent to promote the carrying on of a specified unlawful activity; and
- (b) is designed in whole or in part to—
 - (i) conceal or disguise the nature, location, source of ownership or control of the proceeds of a specified unlawful activity; or
 - (ii) avoid a lawful transaction.

(5) An arrangement, agreement, practice or scheme is a fraudulent transfer of property or legal rights if it involves a person, by false pretence and with the intent to defraud another person—

- (a) obtaining any property from that person or any third person, as the case may be; or
- (b) inducing that person or any third person to—
 - (i) deliver property at the direction of the first person; or
 - (ii) confer a benefit of any kind on any person at the direction of the first person on the understanding that the benefit has or will be paid for.

(6) A person must not directly or indirectly represent, by false pretence or with the intent to defraud, another person to the effect that the first person is in possession of—

- (a) any property;
- (b) information relating to the whereabouts of any property or relating to any legal rights or potential legal claims; or
- (c) has the ability to effect the transfer of any property or to locate or determine the whereabouts of an individual.

(7) A person must not—

- (a) invite another person to participate for a fee in assisting to effect a transfer of any property that the first person is not authorised to transfer; or
- (b) seek, demand or accept any consideration from another person in connection with any unlawful activity contemplated in this section.

(8) The Minister, by regulation made in accordance with section 120, may declare any arrangement, agreement, practice or scheme to be a scheme contemplated in subsection (2) (d), if it is similar in purpose or effect to a scheme contemplated in that subsection.

43. Pyramid and related schemes.—(1) In this section—

- (a) "consideration" has the meaning set out in section 1, except that it does not include—
 - (i) the purchase of any goods at cost to be used in making sales, or not for resale;
 - (ii) the purchase of any goods in exchange for which the seller of those goods offers to repurchase the participant's products under reasonable commercial terms; or
 - (iii) the participant's time and effort in pursuit of sales or recruiting activities; and
- (b) "participant" means a person who is admitted to a scheme for consideration.

(2) A person must not directly or indirectly promote, or knowingly join, enter or participate in—

- (a) a multiplication scheme, as described in subsection (3);
- (b) a pyramid scheme, as described in subsection (4);
- (c) a chain letter scheme, as described in subsection (5); or
- (d) any other scheme declared by the Minister in terms of subsection (6), or cause any other person to do so.

(3) A multiplication scheme exists when a person offers, promises or guarantees to any consumer, investor or participant an effective annual interest rate, as calculated in the prescribed manner, that is at least 20 per cent above the REPO Rate determined by the South African Reserve Bank as at the date of investment or commencement of participation, irrespective of whether the consumer, investor or participant becomes a member of the lending party.

(4) An arrangement, agreement, practice or scheme is a pyramid scheme if—

- (a) participants in the scheme receive compensation derived primarily from their respective recruitment of other persons as participants, rather than from the sale of any goods or services; or
- (b) the emphasis in the promotion of the scheme indicates an arrangement or practice contemplated in paragraph (a).

(5) An arrangement, agreement, practice or scheme is a chain letter scheme if—

- (a) it has various levels of participation;
- (b) existing participants canvass and recruit new participants; or
- (c) each successive newly recruited participant—
 - (i) upon joining—
 - (aa) is required to pay certain consideration, which is distributed to one, some or all of the previously existing participants, irrespective of whether the new participant receives any goods or services in exchange for that consideration; and
 - (bb) is assigned to the lowest level of participation in the scheme; and
 - (ii) upon recruiting further new participants, or upon those new participants recruiting further new participants, and so on in continual succession—
 - (aa) may participate in the distribution of the consideration paid by any such new recruit; and
 - (bb) moves to a higher level within the scheme, until being removed from the scheme after reaching the highest level.

(6) The Minister, by regulation made in accordance with section 120, may declare any arrangement, agreement, practice or scheme to be a scheme contemplated in subsection (2) (d), if it is similar in purpose or effect to a scheme contemplated in that subsection.

44. Consumer's right to assume supplier is entitled to sell goods.—(1) Subject to subsection (2), every consumer has a right to assume, and it is an implied provision of every transaction or agreement, that—

- (a) in the case of a supply of goods, the supplier has the legal right, or the authority of the legal owner, to supply those goods;
- (b) in the case of an agreement to supply goods, the supplier will have a legal right, or the authority of the legal owner, to—
 - (i) sell the goods at the time the title to those goods is to pass to the consumer; or
 - (ii) lease the goods at the time the lessee is to take possession of the leased goods;
- (c) as between the supplier and the consumer, the supplier is fully liable for any charge or encumbrance pertaining to the goods in favour of any third party unless—
 - (i) such a charge or encumbrance is disclosed in writing to the consumer before the transaction or agreement is concluded; or
 - (ii) the supplier and consumer have colluded to defraud the third party; and
- (d) the supplier guarantees that the consumer is to have and enjoy quiet possession of the goods, subject to any charge or encumbrance disclosed as contemplated in paragraph (c) (i).

(2) If, as a result of any transaction or agreement in which goods are supplied to a consumer, a right or claim of a third party pertaining to those goods is infringed or compromised the supplier is liable to the third party to the extent of the infringement or compromise of that person's rights pertaining to those goods, except to the extent of a charge or encumbrance disclosed as contemplated in subsection (1) (c) (i).

45. Auctions.—(1) In this section, "auction" includes a sale in execution of or pursuant to a court order, to the extent that the order contemplates that the sale is to be conducted by an auction.

(2) When goods are put up for sale by auction in lots, each lot is, unless there is evidence to the contrary, regarded to be the subject of a separate transaction.

(3) A sale by auction is complete when the auctioneer announces its completion by the fall of the hammer, or in any other customary manner, and until that announcement is made, a bid may be retracted.

(4) Notice must be given in advance that a sale by auction is subject to—

- (a) a reserved or upset price; or
- (b) a right to bid by or on behalf of the owner or auctioneer, in which case the owner or auctioneer, or any one person on behalf of the owner or auctioneer, as the case may be, may bid at the auction.

(5) Unless notice is given in advance that a sale by auction is subject to a right to bid by or on behalf of the owner or auctioneer—

- (a) the owner or auctioneer must not bid or employ any person to bid at the sale;
- (b) the auctioneer must not knowingly accept any bid from a person contemplated in paragraph (a); and
- (c) the consumer may approach a court to declare the transaction fraudulent, if this subsection has been violated.

(6) The Minister may prescribe requirements to be complied with by an auctioneer, or different categories of auctioneer, in respect of—

- (a) the conduct of an auction;
- (b) the records to be maintained with respect to property placed for auction; and
- (c) the sale of any such property by auction.

46. Changes, deferrals and waivers, and substitution of goods.—(1) The supply of goods or services as a result of a change to an existing agreement, or a deferral or waiver of a right under an existing agreement, is not to be treated as creating a new agreement for the purposes of this Act, if the change, deferral or waiver is made in accordance with this Act or the agreement.

(2) If, after delivery to the consumer of goods that are the subject of a transaction, the consumer and the supplier agree to substitute other goods for all or part of the goods sold—

- (a) from the date of delivery of the substituted goods, the transaction applies to the substituted goods rather than the goods originally described; and
- (b) if the transaction was the subject of a written agreement, or the sales record identified any specific goods, the supplier must prepare and deliver to the consumer an amended agreement or sales record, describing the substituted goods, but without making any other changes to the original document.

47. Over-selling and over-booking.—(1) This section does not apply to—

- (a) a franchise agreement; or
- (b) a consumer agreement pertaining to the supply of any special-order goods.

(2) A supplier must not accept payment or other consideration for any goods or services if the supplier—

- (a) has no reasonable basis to assert an intention to supply those goods or provide those services; or
- (b) intends to supply goods or services that are materially different from the goods or services in respect of which the payment or consideration was accepted.

(3) If a supplier makes a commitment or accepts a reservation to supply goods or services on a specified date or at a specified time and, on the date and at the time contemplated in the commitment or reservation, fails because of insufficient stock or capacity to supply those goods or services, or similar or comparable goods or services of the same or better quality, class or nature, the supplier must—

- (a) refund to the consumer the amount, if any, paid in respect of that commitment or reservation, together with interest at the prescribed rate from the date on which the amount was paid until the date of reimbursement; and
- (b) in addition, compensate the consumer for costs directly incidental to the supplier's breach of the contract, except to the extent that subsection (5) provides otherwise.

(4) It is a defence to an alleged failure to supply any goods or services, as contemplated in subsection (3), if

- (a) the supplier offered to supply or procure another person to supply a consumer with comparable goods or services of the relevant kind to satisfy the consumer's request; and
- (b) the consumer—
 - (i) accepted the offer, and the supplier has supplied or procured another person to supply the goods or services so offered and accepted; or
 - (ii) unreasonably refused that offer.

(5) Subsection (3) (b) does not apply if—

- (a) the shortage of stock or capacity is due to circumstances beyond the supplier's control, subject to subsection (6); and
- (b) the supplier took reasonable steps to inform the consumer of the shortage of stock or capacity as soon as it was practicable to do so in the circumstances.

(6) Without limiting the generality of subsection (5) (a), a shortage of stock or capacity is not "due to circumstances beyond the supplier's control" if the shortage results partially, completely, directly or indirectly from a failure on the part of the supplier to adequately and diligently carry out any ordinary or routine matter pertaining to the supplier's business.

Part G

Right to fair, just and reasonable terms and conditions

48. Unfair, unreasonable or unjust contract terms.—(1) A supplier must not—

- (a) offer to supply, supply, or enter into an agreement to supply, any goods or services—
 - (i) at a price that is unfair, unreasonable or unjust; or
 - (ii) on terms that are unfair, unreasonable or unjust;
- (b) market any goods or services, or negotiate, enter into or administer a transaction or an agreement for the supply of any goods or services, in a manner that is unfair, unreasonable or unjust; or
- (c) require a consumer, or other person to whom any goods or services are supplied at the direction of the consumer—
 - (i) to waive any rights;
 - (ii) assume any obligation; or
 - (iii) waive any liability of the supplier, on terms that are unfair, unreasonable or unjust, or impose any such terms as a condition of entering into a transaction.

(2) Without limiting the generality of subsection (1), a transaction or agreement, a term or condition of a transaction or agreement, or a notice to which a term or condition is purportedly subject, is unfair, unreasonable or unjust if—

- (a) it is excessively one-sided in favour of any person other than the consumer or other person to whom goods or services are to be supplied;
- (b) the terms of the transaction or agreement are so adverse to the consumer as to be inequitable;
- (c) the consumer relied upon a false, misleading or deceptive representation, as contemplated in section 41 or a statement of opinion provided by or on behalf of the supplier, to the detriment of the consumer; or
- (d) the transaction or agreement was subject to a term or condition, or a notice to a consumer contemplated in section 49 (1), and—
 - (i) the term, condition or notice is unfair, unreasonable, unjust or unconscionable; or
 - (ii) the fact, nature and effect of that term, condition or notice was not drawn to the attention of the consumer in a manner that satisfied the applicable requirements of section 49.

49. Notice required for certain terms and conditions.—(1) Any notice to consumers or provision of a consumer agreement that purports to—

- (a) limit in any way the risk or liability of the supplier or any other person;
- (b) constitute an assumption of risk or liability by the consumer;
- (c) impose an obligation on the consumer to indemnify the supplier or any other person for any cause; or
- (d) be an acknowledgement of any fact by the consumer, must be drawn to the attention of the consumer in a manner and form that satisfies the formal requirements of subsections (3) to (5).

(2) In addition to subsection (1), if a provision or notice concerns any activity or facility that is subject to any risk—

- (a) of an unusual character or nature;
- (b) the presence of which the consumer could not reasonably be expected to be aware or notice, or which an ordinarily alert consumer could not reasonably be expected to notice or contemplate in the circumstances; or
- (c) that could result in serious injury or death,

the supplier must specifically draw the fact, nature and potential effect of that risk to the attention of the consumer in a manner and form that satisfies the requirements of subsections (3) to (5), and the consumer must have assented to that provision or notice by signing or initialling the provision or otherwise acting in a manner consistent with acknowledgement of the notice, awareness of the risk and acceptance of the provision.

(3) A provision, condition or notice contemplated in subsection (1) or (2) must be written in plain language, as described in section 22.

(4) The fact, nature and effect of the provision or notice contemplated in subsection (1) must be drawn to the attention of the consumer—

- (a) in a conspicuous manner and form that is likely to attract the attention of an ordinarily alert consumer, having regard to the circumstances; and

(b) before the earlier of the time at which the consumer—

(i) enters into the transaction or agreement, begins to engage in the activity, or enters or gains access to the facility; or

(ii) is required or expected to offer consideration for the transaction or agreement.

(5) The consumer must be given an adequate opportunity in the circumstances to receive and comprehend the provision or notice as contemplated in subsection (1).

50. Written consumer agreements.—(1) The Minister may prescribe categories of consumer agreements that are required to be in writing.

(2) If a consumer agreement between a supplier and a consumer is in writing, whether as required by this Act or voluntarily—

(a) it applies irrespective of whether or not the consumer signs the agreement; and

(b) the supplier must provide the consumer with a free copy, or free electronic access to a copy, of the terms and conditions of that agreement, which must—

(i) satisfy the requirements of section 22; and

(ii) set out an itemised break-down of the consumer's financial obligations under such agreement.

(3) If a consumer agreement between a supplier and a consumer is not in writing, a supplier must keep a record of transactions entered into over the telephone or any other recordable form as prescribed.

51. Prohibited transactions, agreements, terms or conditions.—(1) A supplier must not make a transaction or agreement subject to any term or condition if—

(a) its general purpose or effect is to—

(i) defeat the purposes and policy of this Act;

(ii) mislead or deceive the consumer; or

(iii) subject the consumer to fraudulent conduct;

(b) it directly or indirectly purports to—

(i) waive or deprive a consumer of a right in terms of this Act;

(ii) avoid a supplier's obligation or duty in terms of this Act;

(iii) set aside or override the effect of any provision of this Act; or

(iv) authorise the supplier to—

(aa) do anything that is unlawful in terms of this Act; or

(bb) fail to do anything that is required in terms of this Act;

(c) it purports to—

(i) limit or exempt a supplier of goods or services from liability for any loss directly or indirectly attributable to the gross negligence of the supplier or any person acting for or controlled by the supplier;

(ii) constitute an assumption of risk or liability by the consumer for a loss contemplated in subparagraph (i); or

(iii) impose an obligation on a consumer to pay for damage to, or otherwise assume the risk of handling, any goods displayed by the supplier, except to the extent contemplated in section 18 (1);

(d) it results from an offer prohibited in terms of section 31;

(e) it requires the consumer to enter into a supplementary agreement, or sign a document, prohibited by subsection (2) (a);

(f) it purports to cede to any person, charge, set off against a debt, or alienate in any manner, a right of the consumer to any claim against the Guardian's Fund;

(g) it falsely expresses an acknowledgement by the consumer that—

(i) before the agreement was made, no representations or warranties were made in connection with the agreement by the supplier or a person on behalf of the supplier; or

(ii) the consumer has received goods or services, or a document that is required by this Act to be delivered to the consumer;

(h) it requires the consumer to forfeit any money to the supplier—

- (i) if the consumer exercises any right in terms of this Act; or
 - (ii) to which the supplier is not entitled in terms of this Act or any other law;
- (i) it expresses, on behalf of the consumer—
- (i) an authorisation for any person acting on behalf of the supplier to enter any premises for the purposes of taking possession of goods to which the agreement relates;
 - (ii) an undertaking to sign in advance any documentation relating to enforcement of the agreement, irrespective of whether such documentation is complete or incomplete at the time it is signed; or
 - (iii) a consent to a predetermined value of costs relating to enforcement of the agreement, except to the extent that is consistent with this Act; or
- (j) it expresses an agreement by the consumer to—
- (i) deposit with the supplier, or with any other person at the direction of the supplier, an identity document, credit or debit card, bank account or automatic teller machine access card, or any similar identifying document or device; or
 - (ii) provide a personal identification code or number to be used to access an account.

(2) A supplier may not—

- (a) directly or indirectly require or induce a consumer to enter into a supplementary agreement, or sign any document, that contains a provision contemplated in subsection (1);
- (b) request or demand a consumer to—
 - (i) give the supplier temporary or permanent possession of an instrument referred to in subsection (1) (j) (i) other than for the purpose of identification, or to make a copy of such instrument; or
 - (ii) reveal any personal identification code or number contemplated in subsection (1) (j) (ii); or
- (c) direct, or knowingly permit, any other person to do anything referred to in this section on behalf or for the benefit of the supplier.

(3) A purported transaction or agreement, provision, term or condition of a transaction or agreement, or notice to which a transaction or agreement is purported to be subject, is void to the extent that it contravenes this section.

(4) This section does not preclude a supplier to require a personal identification code or number in order to facilitate a transaction that in the normal course of business necessitates the provision of such code or number.

52. Powers of court to ensure fair and just conduct, terms and conditions.—(1) If, in any proceedings before a court concerning a transaction or agreement between a supplier and consumer, a person alleges that—

- (a) the supplier contravened section 40, 41 or 48; and
- (b) this Act does not otherwise provide a remedy sufficient to correct the relevant prohibited conduct, unfairness, injustice or unconscionability, the court, after considering the principles, purposes and provisions of this Act, and the matters set out in subsection (2), may make an order contemplated in subsection (3).

(2) In any matter contemplated in subsection (1), the court must consider—

- (a) the fair value of the goods or services in question;
- (b) the nature of the parties to that transaction or agreement, their relationship to each other and their relative capacity, education, experience, sophistication and bargaining position;
- (c) those circumstances of the transaction or agreement that existed or were reasonably foreseeable at the time that the conduct or transaction occurred or agreement was made, irrespective of whether this Act was in force at that time;
- (d) the conduct of the supplier and the consumer, respectively;
- (e) whether there was any negotiation between the supplier and the consumer, and if so, the extent of that negotiation;
- (f) whether, as a result of conduct engaged in by the supplier, the consumer was required to do anything that was not reasonably necessary for the legitimate interests of the supplier;
- (g) the extent to which any documents relating to the transaction or agreement satisfied the requirements of section 22;
- (h) whether the consumer knew or ought reasonably to have known of the existence and extent of any particular provision of the agreement that is alleged to have been unfair, unreasonable or unjust, having regard to any—

- (i) custom of trade; and
- (ii) any previous dealings between the parties;
- (j) the amount for which, and circumstances under which, the consumer could have acquired identical or equivalent goods or services from a different supplier; and
- (j) in the case of supply of goods, whether the goods were manufactured, processed or adapted to the special order of the consumer.

(3) If the court determines that a transaction or agreement was, in whole or in part, unconscionable, unjust, unreasonable or unfair, the court may—

- (a) make a declaration to that effect; and
- (b) make any further order the court considers just and reasonable in the circumstances, including, but not limited to, an order—
 - (i) to restore money or property to the consumer;
 - (ii) to compensate the consumer for losses or expenses relating to—
 - (aa) the transaction or agreement; or
 - (bb) the proceedings of the court; and
 - (iii) requiring the supplier to cease any practice, or alter any practice, form or document, as required to avoid a repetition of the supplier's conduct.

(4) If, in any proceedings before a court concerning a transaction or agreement between a supplier and a consumer, a person alleges that an agreement, a term or condition of an agreement, or a notice to which a transaction or agreement is purportedly subject, is void in terms of this Act or failed to satisfy any applicable requirements set out in section 49, the court may—

- (a) make an order—
 - (i) in the case of a provision or notice that is void in terms of any provision of this Act—
 - (aa) severing any part of the relevant agreement, provision or notice, or alter it to the extent required to render it lawful, if it is reasonable to do so having regard to the transaction, agreement, provision or notice as a whole; or
 - (bb) declaring the entire agreement, provision or notice void as from the date that it purportedly took effect; or
 - (ii) in the case of a provision or notice that fails to satisfy any provision of section 49, severing the provision or notice from the agreement, or declaring it to have no force or effect with respect to the transaction; and
- (b) make any further order that is just and reasonable in the circumstances with respect to that agreement, provision or notice, as the case may be.

Part H
Right to fair value, good quality and safety

53. Definitions applicable to this Part.—(1) In this Part, when used with respect to any goods, component of any goods, or services—

- (a) “defect” means—
 - (i) any material imperfection in the manufacture of the goods or components, or in performance of the services, that renders the goods or results of the service less acceptable than persons generally would be reasonably entitled to expect in the circumstances; or
 - (ii) any characteristic of the goods or components that renders the goods or components less useful, practicable or safe than persons generally would be reasonably entitled to expect in the circumstances;
- (b) “failure” means the inability of the goods to perform in the intended manner or to the intended effect;
- (c) “hazard” means a characteristic that—
 - (i) has been identified as, or declared to be, a hazard in terms of any other law; or
 - (ii) presents a significant risk of personal injury to any person, or damage to property, when the goods are utilised; and
- (d) “unsafe” means that, due to a characteristic, failure, defect or hazard, particular goods present an extreme risk of personal injury or property damage to the consumer or to other persons.

54. Consumer's rights to demand quality service.—(1) When a supplier undertakes to perform any services for or on behalf of a consumer, the consumer has a right to—

- (a) the timely performance and completion of those services, and timely notice of any unavoidable delay in the performance of the services;
- (b) the performance of the services in a manner and quality that persons are generally entitled to expect;
- (c) the use, delivery or installation of goods that are free of defects and of a quality that persons are generally entitled to expect, if any such goods are required for performance of the services; and
- (d) the return of any property or control over any property of the consumer in at least as good a condition as it was when the consumer made it available to the supplier for the purpose of performing such services, having regard to the circumstances of the supply, and any specific criteria or conditions agreed between the supplier and the consumer before or during the performance of the services.

(2) If a supplier fails to perform a service to the standards contemplated in subsection (1), the consumer may require the supplier to either—

- (a) remedy any defect in the quality of the services performed or goods supplied; or
- (b) refund to the consumer a reasonable portion of the price paid for the services performed and goods supplied, having regard to the extent of the failure.

55. Consumer's rights to safe, good quality goods.—(1) This section does not apply to goods bought at an auction, as contemplated in section 45.

(2) Except to the extent contemplated in subsection (6), every consumer has a right to receive goods that—

- (a) are reasonably suitable for the purposes for which they are generally intended;
- (b) are of good quality, in good working order and free of any defects;
- (c) will be useable and durable for a reasonable period of time, having regard to the use to which they would normally be put and to all the surrounding circumstances of their supply; and
- (d) comply with any applicable standards set under the Standards Act, 1993 (Act No. 29 of 1993), or any other public regulation.

(3) In addition to the right set out in subsection (2) (a), if a consumer has specifically informed the supplier of the particular purpose for which the consumer wishes to acquire any goods, or the use to which the consumer intends to apply those goods, and the supplier—

- (a) ordinarily offers to supply such goods; or
- (b) acts in a manner consistent with being knowledgeable about the use of those goods, the consumer has a right to expect that the goods are reasonably suitable for the specific purpose that the consumer has indicated.

(4) In determining whether any particular goods satisfied the requirements of subsection (2) or (3), all of the circumstances of the supply of those goods must be considered, including but not limited to—

- (a) the manner in which, and the purposes for which, the goods were marketed, packaged and displayed, the use of any trade description or mark, any instructions for, or warnings with respect to the use of the goods;
- (b) the range of things that might reasonably be anticipated to be done with or in relation to the goods; and
- (c) the time when the goods were produced and supplied.

(5) For greater certainty in applying subsection (4)—

- (a) it is irrelevant whether a product failure or defect was latent or patent, or whether it could have been detected by a consumer before taking delivery of the goods; and
- (b) a product failure or defect may not be inferred in respect of particular goods solely on the grounds that better goods have subsequently become available from the same or any other producer or supplier.

(6) Subsection (2) (a) and (b) do not apply to a transaction if the consumer—

- (a) has been expressly informed that particular goods were offered in a specific condition; and
- (b) has expressly agreed to accept the goods in that condition, or knowingly acted in a manner consistent with accepting the goods in that condition.

56. Implied warranty of quality.—(1) In any transaction or agreement pertaining to the supply of goods to a consumer there is an implied provision that the producer or importer, the distributor and the retailer each warrant that the goods comply with the requirements and standards contemplated in section 55, except to the extent that those goods have been altered contrary to the instructions, or after leaving the control, of the producer or importer, a distributor or the retailer, as the case may be.

(2) Within six months after the delivery of any goods to a consumer, the consumer may return the goods to the supplier, without penalty and at the supplier's risk and expense, if the goods fail to satisfy the requirements and standards contemplated in section 55, and the supplier must, at the direction of the consumer, either—

- (a) repair or replace the failed, unsafe or defective goods; or
- (b) refund to the consumer the price paid by the consumer, for the goods.

(3) If a supplier repairs any particular goods or any component of any such goods, and within three months after that repair, the failure, defect or unsafe feature has not been remedied, or a further failure, defect or unsafe feature is discovered, the supplier must—

- (a) replace the goods; or
- (b) refund to the consumer the price paid by the consumer for the goods.

(4) The implied warranty imposed by subsection (1), and the right to return goods set out in subsection (2), are each in addition to—

- (a) any other implied warranty or condition imposed by the common law, this Act or any other public regulation; and
- (b) any express warranty or condition stipulated by the producer or importer, distributor or retailer, as the case may be.

57. Warranty on repaired goods.—(1) A service provider warrants every new or reconditioned part installed during any repair or maintenance work, and the labour required to install it, for a period of three months after the date of installation or such longer period as the supplier may specify in writing.

(2) A warranty in terms of this section—

- (a) is concurrent with any other deemed, implied or express warranty;
- (b) is void if the consumer has subjected the part, or the goods or property in which it was installed, to misuse or abuse; and
- (c) does not apply to ordinary wear and tear, having regard to the circumstances in which the goods are intended to ordinarily be used.

58. Warning concerning fact and nature of risks.—(1) The supplier of any activity or facility that is subject to any—

- (a) risk of an unusual character or nature;
- (b) risk of which a consumer could not reasonably be expected to be aware, or which an ordinarily alert consumer could not reasonably be expected to contemplate, in the circumstances; or
- (c) risk that could result in serious injury or death, must specifically draw the fact, nature and potential effect of that risk to the attention of consumers in a form and manner that meets the standards set out in section 49.

(2) A person who packages any hazardous or unsafe goods for supply to consumers must display on or within that packaging a notice that meets the requirements of section 22, and any other applicable standards, providing the consumer with adequate instructions for the safe handling and use of those goods.

(3) Subsection (2) does not apply to any hazardous or unsafe goods to the extent that a substantially similar label or notice has been applied in terms of any other public regulation.

(4) A person who installs any hazardous or unsafe goods contemplated in subsection (2) for a consumer, or supplies any such goods to a consumer in conjunction with the performance of any services, must give the consumer the original copy of—

- (a) any document required in terms of that subsection; or
- (b) any similar document applied to those goods in terms of another public regulation.

59. Recovery and safe disposal of designated products or components.—(1) If any national legislation prohibits the disposal or deposit of any particular goods, or any components, remnants, containers or packaging of any goods, into a common waste collection system—

- (a) any person who in the ordinary course of business supplies goods of that kind to consumers, must accept the return of any such goods, components, remnants, containers or packaging from any consumer, without charge to the consumer, irrespective of whether that person supplied the particular object to that particular consumer; and

- (b) any person who in the ordinary course of business produces, imports or distributes any such goods as part of the supply chain by which those goods reach the consumer, must in turn accept the return of any such goods, components, remnants, containers or packaging from any supplier contemplated in paragraph (a).

(2) If any regulation or industry waste management plan approved by any other legislation for the management of a specific waste type applies, the consumer may dispose or deposit the goods to a collection facility provided for in the regulation or industry waste management plan.

60. Safety monitoring and recall.—(1) The Commission must promote, within the framework of section 82, the development, adoption and application of industry-wide codes of practice providing for effective and efficient systems to—

- (a) receive notice of—
 - (i) consumer complaints or reports of product failures, defects or hazards;
 - (ii) the return of any goods because of a failure, defect or hazard;
 - (iii) personal injury, illness or damage to property caused wholly or partially as a result of a product failure, defect or hazard; and
 - (iv) other indication of failure, defect or hazard, in any particular goods or in any component of them, or injury or damage resulting from the use of those goods;
- (b) monitor the sources of information contemplated in paragraph (a), and analyse the information received with the object of detecting or identifying any previously undetected or unrecognised potential risk to the public from the use of or exposure to those goods;
- (c) conduct investigations into the nature, causes, extent and degree of the risk to the public;
- (d) notify consumers of the nature, causes, extent and degree of the risk pertaining to those goods; and
- (e) if the goods are unsafe, recall those goods for repair, replacement or refund.

(2) If the Commission has reasonable grounds to believe that any goods may be unsafe, or that there is a potential risk to the public from the continued use of or exposure to the goods, and the producer or importer of those goods has not taken any steps required by an applicable code contemplated in subsection (1), the Commission, by written notice, may require that producer to—

- (a) conduct an investigation contemplated in subsection (1); or
- (b) carry out a recall programme on any terms required by the Commission.

(3) A producer or importer affected by a notice issued in terms of subsection (2) may apply to the Tribunal to set aside the notice in whole or in part.

61. Liability for damage caused by goods.—(1) Except to the extent contemplated in subsection (4), the producer or importer, distributor or retailer of any goods is liable for any harm, as described in subsection (5), caused wholly or partly as a consequence of—

- (a) supplying any unsafe goods;
- (b) a product failure, defect or hazard in any goods; or
- (c) inadequate instructions or warnings provided to the consumer pertaining to any hazard arising from or associated with the use of any goods, irrespective of whether the harm resulted from any negligence on the part of the producer, importer, distributor or retailer, as the case may be.

(2) A supplier of services who, in conjunction with the performance of those services, applies, supplies, installs or provides access to any goods, must be regarded as a supplier of those goods to the consumer, for the purposes of this section.

(3) If, in a particular case, more than one person is liable in terms of this section, their liability is joint and several.

(4) Liability of a particular person in terms of this section does not arise if—

- (a) the unsafe product characteristic, failure, defect or hazard that results in harm is wholly attributable to compliance with any public regulation;
- (b) the alleged unsafe product characteristic, failure, defect or hazard—
 - (i) did not exist in the goods at the time it was supplied by that person to another person alleged to be liable; or
 - (ii) was wholly attributable to compliance by that person with instructions provided by the person who supplied the goods to that person, in which case subparagraph (i) does not apply;
- (c) it is unreasonable to expect the distributor or retailer to have discovered the unsafe product characteristic, failure, defect or hazard, having regard to that person's role in marketing the goods to consumers; or

- (d) the claim for damages is brought more than three years after the—
 - (i) death or injury of a person contemplated in subsection (5) (a);
 - (ii) earliest time at which a person had knowledge of the material facts about an illness contemplated in subsection (5) (b); or
 - (iii) earliest time at which a person with an interest in any property had knowledge of the material facts about the loss or damage to that property contemplated in subsection (5) (c); or
 - (iv) the latest date on which a person suffered any economic loss contemplated in subsection (5) (d).
- (5) Harm for which a person may be held liable in terms of this section includes—
 - (a) the death of, or injury to, any natural person;
 - (b) an illness of any natural person;
 - (c) any loss of, or physical damage to, any property, irrespective of whether it is movable or immovable; and
 - (d) any economic loss that results from harm contemplated in paragraph (a), (b) or (c).
- (6) Nothing in this section limits the authority of a court to—
 - (a) assess whether any harm has been proven and adequately mitigated;
 - (b) determine the extent and monetary value of any damages, including economic loss; or
 - (c) apportion liability among persons who are found to be jointly and severally liable.

Part I
Supplier's accountability to consumers

62. Lay-bys.—(1) If a supplier agrees to sell particular goods to a consumer, to accept payment for those goods in periodic instalments, and to hold those goods until the consumer has paid the full price for the goods—

- (a) each amount paid by the consumer to the supplier remains the property of the consumer, and is subject to section 65, until the goods have been delivered to the consumer; and
- (b) the particular goods remain at the risk of the supplier until the goods have been delivered to the consumer.

(2) If a supplier is unable to deliver any goods contemplated in subsection (1) when the consumer has paid the full price for those goods, the supplier must either, at the option of the consumer—

- (a) supply the consumer with an equivalent quantity of goods that are comparable or superior in description, design and quality; or
- (b) refund to the consumer—
 - (i) the money paid by the consumer, with interest in accordance with the Prescribed Rate of Interest Act, 1975 (Act No. 55 of 1975), if the inability to supply the goods is due to circumstances beyond the supplier's control; or
 - (ii) double the amount paid by the consumer, as compensation for breach of contract in any circumstances not contemplated in subparagraph (i).

(3) Without limiting the generality of subsection (2) (b) (i), a failure to supply the goods is not "due to circumstances beyond the supplier's control" if the shortage results partially, completely, directly or indirectly from a failure on the part of the supplier to adequately and diligently carry out any ordinary or routine matter pertaining to the supplier's business.

(4) If a consumer contemplated in subsection (1) terminates the agreement before fully paying for the goods, or fails to complete the payment for the goods within 60 business days after the anticipated date of completion, the supplier—

- (a) may charge a termination penalty in respect of those goods, subject to subsections (5) and (6); and
- (b) after deducting any such termination penalty, must refund to the consumer any amount paid by the consumer under that agreement.

(5) A cancellation penalty contemplated in subsection (4) may not be charged—

- (a) if the consumer's failure to complete payment was due to the death or hospitalisation of the consumer; or
- (b) in any other case, unless the supplier informed the consumer of the fact and extent of the penalty before the consumer entered into the lay-by agreement.

(6) The Minister may prescribe a basis for calculating the maximum amount of a cancellation penalty contemplated in subsection (4).

63. Prepaid certificates, credits and vouchers.—(1) This section applies only to a transaction in which a supplier—

- (a) accepts consideration from a person in exchange for a prepaid certificate, card, credit, voucher or similar device; and
- (b) expressly or implicitly agrees to provide goods or services to any person who subsequently presents that certificate, card, credit, voucher or similar device, up to the value represented by it, but does not apply with respect to such a device, or the value represented by it, after all of the value of the device has been exchanged for goods, services or future access to services.

(2) A prepaid certificate, card, credit, voucher or similar device contemplated in subsection (1) does not expire until the earlier of—

- (a) the date on which its full value has been redeemed in exchange for goods or services or future access to services; or
- (b) three years after the date on which it was issued, or at the end of a longer or extended period agreed by the supplier at any time.

(3) Any consideration paid by a consumer to a supplier in exchange for a prepaid certificate, card, credit, voucher or similar device contemplated in subsection (1) is the property of the bearer of that certificate, card, credit, voucher or similar device to the extent that the supplier has not redeemed it in exchange for goods or services, or future access to services.

64. Prepaid services and access to service facilities.—(1) If, in terms of any agreement, a consumer agrees or is required to pay—

- (a) a one-time or periodic membership fee or any similar charge; or
- (b) any amount in respect of services or access to services to be provided at a date more than 25 business days after the payment is made, other than by way of a prepayment device contemplated in section 63, the amount so paid remains the property of the consumer until the supplier makes a charge against it in accordance with subsection (2).

(2) A supplier may make a charge against the consumer's money contemplated in subsection (1) once each month in advance for the pro-rata portion of the amount so held, as required to pay the ensuing month's cost of the membership or service.

(3) If a supplier intends to close a facility to which the supplier has committed to provide future access in terms of an agreement with a consumer to provide any service, without making available a reasonably accessible alternative facility, the supplier must—

- (a) give written notice of that intention to such consumer at least 40 business days before the intended date of closure; and
- (b) no later than five business days after closing that facility, refund to such consumer the balance of any money belonging to that consumer in terms of this section.

(4) Subsection (3) (b), read with the changes required by the context, applies equally in respect of any involuntary closing of a facility contemplated in this section.

65. Supplier to hold and account for consumer's property.—(1) Subsection (2) does not apply to a supplier that is—

- (a) a bank, as defined in the Banks Act, 1990 (Act No. 94 of 1990);
- (b) a mutual bank, as defined in the Mutual Banks Act, 1993 (Act No. 124 of 1993); or
- (c) any other financial institution that is similarly licensed and authorised to conduct business and take deposits from the public in terms of any national legislation.

(2) When a supplier has possession of any prepayment, deposit, membership fee, or other money, or any other property belonging to or ordinarily under the control of a consumer, the supplier—

- (a) must not treat that property as being the property of the supplier;
- (b) in the handling, safeguarding and utilisation of that property, must exercise the degree of care, diligence and skill that can reasonably be expected of a person responsible for managing any property belonging to another person; and
- (c) is liable to the owner of the property for any loss resulting from a failure to comply with paragraph (a) or (b).

(3) A person who assumes control of a supplier's property as administrator, executor or liquidator of an estate—

- (a) has a duty to the consumer—
 - (i) to diligently investigate the circumstances of the supplier's business to ascertain the existence of any money or other property belonging to the consumer and in the possession of the supplier; and
 - (ii) to ensure that any such money or property is dealt with for the consumer's benefit in accordance with this section; and
- (b) is liable to the consumer for any loss, unless that person has acted—
 - (i) in good faith; and
 - (ii) without knowledge of the existence of the consumer's interest.

66. Deposits in respect of containers, pallets or similar objects.—(1) The Minister may, in consultation with the Minister of Environmental Affairs and Tourism, prescribe a minimum or maximum deposit that a supplier must or may require a consumer to pay in respect of the return of a bottle, container, pallet, reel or similar object used in respect of the packaging or delivery of any goods.

(2) If a person returns a bottle, container, pallet, reel or similar object contemplated in subsection (1) to any supplier of goods ordinarily sold in that bottle or container or on that pallet or in or on that reel or similar object, the supplier must pay that person the amount of the deposit—

- (a) if any, that is required to be charged in terms of any public regulation on the date on which the object is returned to the supplier; or
- (b) that the supplier charged for that object, or ordinarily charges for such an object, irrespective of whether the person returning the container paid a deposit for that object to that supplier.

67. Return of parts and materials.—(1) When a supplier is authorised to perform any service to any goods or property belonging to or ordinarily under the control of the consumer, the supplier must—

- (a) retain any parts or components removed from any goods or property in the course of any repair or maintenance work;
- (b) keep those parts or components separate from parts removed from other goods or property; and
- (c) return those parts or components to the consumer in a reasonably clean container, unless the consumer declined the return of any such parts or materials.

(2) This section does not apply to any substance, parts or components that are required—

- (a) in terms of any warranty under which the work was carried out, to be returned to, or disposed of at the direction of, the producer or distributor;
- (b) in terms of any insurance claim under which the work was carried out, to be returned to, or disposed of at the direction of, the insurer; or
- (c) in terms of any public regulation, to be recovered or disposed of in a safe manner in the interests of environmental safety or public health and safety.

CHAPTER 3 PROTECTION OF CONSUMER RIGHTS AND CONSUMER'S VOICE

Part A Consumer's right to be heard and obtain redress

68. Protection of consumer rights.—(1) If a consumer has exercised, asserted or sought to uphold any right set out in this Act or in an agreement or transaction with a supplier, the supplier must not, in response—

- (a) discriminate directly or indirectly against that consumer, compared to the supplier's treatment of any other consumer who has not exercised, asserted or sought to uphold such a right;
- (b) penalise the consumer;
- (c) alter, or propose to alter, the terms or conditions of a transaction or agreement with the consumer, to the detriment of the consumer; or
- (d) take any action to accelerate, enforce, suspend or terminate an agreement with the consumer.

(2) If an agreement or any provision of an agreement is, in terms of this Act, declared to be void, or is severed from the agreement in terms of section 52 (4), the supplier who is a party to that agreement must not, in response to that decision—

- (a) directly or indirectly penalise another party to that agreement;

(6) Immediately before commencing with the execution of a warrant, a person executing that warrant must either—

(8) Before using force in terms of subsection (6), a police officer must audibly demand admission and must announce the purpose of the entry, unless it is reasonable to believe that doing so may induce someone to destroy or dispose of an article or document that is the object of the search.
